Because of lights

City 'dumping' image may be thing of past

By DALE GOWING
Of The Roman Staff

The notorious Romulus "dumping ground" may be a thing of the past within 30 days.

That's the fervent hope of city officials, at least, as they await a Wayne County decision on awarding a $10,000 grant to the city to facilitate the installation of streetlights along Beverly and Henry Ruff roads. The area has carried the label of "dumping ground" because bodies of several Detroit murder victims were found there.

The most widely publicized discovery of bodies in the vicinity was last spring when two young Detroit boys, Keith Arnold and Gerald Craft, were found murdered. The boys were kidnapped and apparently slain in Detroit, then left in the seclusion of the Beverly-Henry Ruff area. Another body was found there last fall.

THE VICINITY of the intersection is a prime spot for the dumping of bodies because it is very dimly lit and lightly traveled.

Romulus is embarking on a program of street light installation up and down the roads and the paving completion of Beverly Road. A portion of Beverly already has been paved.

Officials believe that more drivers will use the road if it is completely paved and lit, decreasing the likelihood of criminals frequenting the area.

According to Wayne County Commissioner Edgar L. Harris (26th District), the county Public Works Committee is studying the possibility of granting the city $10,000 for the lights. The money would be added to the funds received by the city from homeowner assessments whose properties front the roads.

HARRIS SAID the county owns about 400 acres of the frontage along the roads which theoretically would be assessed by Romulus. However the city is not allowed to assess the county.

Therefore, the city's only hope of obtaining county funds to support the installation of lights there would be through a grant from the county, Harris said.

He added that failure to receive the grant "would very much hinder Romulus' success" in obtaining the lights.

Harris said Romulus must have the support of at least 51 per cent of the affected property owners to be able to put the assessment on the tax rolls. The county's 400 acres are important, therefore, because they represent a major chunk of the land.

ANOTHER PROBLEM is that much of the frontage is owned by persons not living in the area," he added.

"And they don't want the lights because they don't live there and don't want to be assessed," Harris said. "The residents want the lights but a lot of the land owners don't."

Harris hopes a decision on the grant would be made in the next few weeks.

Romulus Mayor Terry L. Troutt said the city anticipates the lights being installed within 30 days if the grant is approved.

He collects trains

One thing about collecting old trains is the fact that old often means broken, in which case repairs are necessary. Doug Nash of Garden City owns and operates a Romulus transmission gear company, and has been working with racing cars for years, so tinkering with his trains comes naturally at home or at work. — Photo by The Romulus Roman Chief Photographer Lothar Konietzko.

Shooting upsets citizens

By DALE GOWING
Of The Roman Staff

More than 70 residents and businessmen in the Goddard and Wayne roads area are up in arms over what they called the "senseless slaughter" of four adult mallard ducks by Romulus Animal Control officers.

The angered persons signed a petition protesting last Wednesday's shootings and were planning to present it to Romulus Mayor Terry L. Troutt.

According to a man who said he witnessed the incident, several animal control officers emerged from their headquarters at the fire station on Goddard and Wayne roads and blasted the ducks with shotguns as the animals walked along the shoulder of the road.

FRED BARNETT, 38, an employee at the D and R Total service station on the corner, said he saw the shooting and called it "senseless."

"Those ducks have never hurt anybody," he added. "They just were walking along the shoulder of the road and the officers blasted them with two shots."

Barnett and William Richardson, a nearby resident who used to feed the ducks daily, said the once-wild ducks were tame and would eat "right out of your hand."

"Everybody liked the ducks and nobody wanted to hurt them," said Richardson of 35084 Goddard Rd., a Taylor school teacher. He said the ducks have lived in the area about a year and wander the neighborhood accepting handouts from residents and businessmen.

HE ADDED THAT he used to be the sole feeder of the ducks, but stopped the practice last spring "so the ducks would leave."

He said none of the neighbors wanted to claim total responsibility for the animals but enjoyed taking turns feeding them nonetheless.

Therefore, the ducks would waddle daily along the shoulder of the road making their rounds from one house to another, Richardson said.

Wednesday, however, they were shot and killed while on the south side of Goddard at the entrance to the fire station.

"THEY WERE a traffic hazard," explained Romulus Chief Animal Control Officer George Hargroves in defense of the shooting. "In the first place, there was road construction going on at the Wayne-Goddard corner and it was dangerous to traffic with the ducks wandering around.

"We've had many drivers say they had to swerve to avoid them and last week a big sand and gravel truck almost jackknifed trying to avoid hitting the ducks as they crossed the road. They had held back several cars while crossing the road repeatedly," he said.

He's a born collector

Businessman makes trains his hobby

By MAUREEN RADEMACHER
Of The Roman Staff

"Unless you're a collector of something yourself, it's hard to understand," said Doug Nash as he puffed on his pipe. "I think I was born a collector and rummager."

Born to collect electric trains, that is. Lining the basement recreation room and workshop of his house in Garden City are hundreds of engines, cars and train accessories such as miniature station houses, bridges and tunnels.

The impressive display has taken Nash, a Romulus businessman, only three years to collect, and today he is as excited about the hobby as he was when he found his first train in an abandoned house.

AFTER PLAYING with his father's old trains from the 1920s when he was a child, the yen to collect them developed naturally after he found the brand-new and still-crated train that started him going.

The number of train collectors in the country is not large compared to other hobbies, Nash estimated, but the ranks have increased quite a bit in the last few years.

"I know that I've gotten at least three people going by asking them if they have trains," he said. "They got fascinated by it, too."

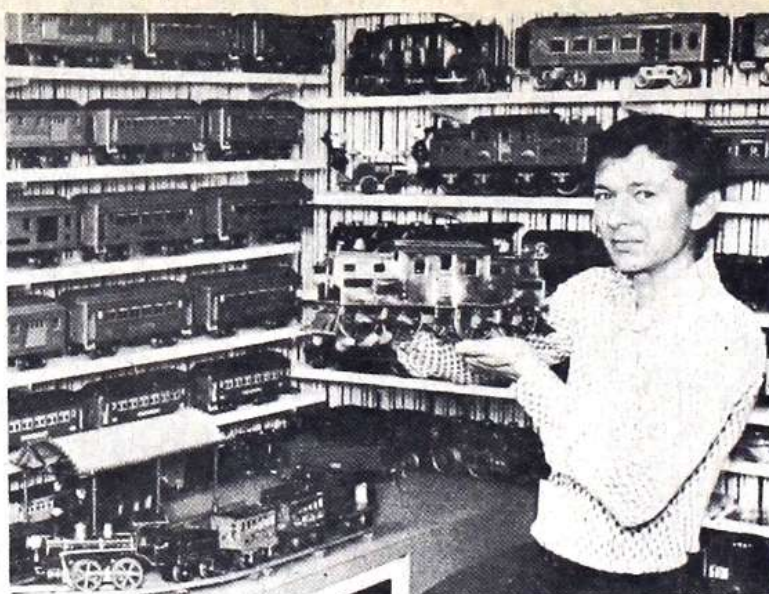

"The whole country is on a nostalgia kick, anyway. Right now people want to collect anything."

NASH OWNS a business in Romulus which makes transmission gears for race cars throughout the country. Tinkering with his trains at work, he sometimes has to restore trains that are in bad condition when he finds them.

Many train collectors specialize in finding trains made after 1940, while Nash chooses to look for the still older trains. Researching about his hobby and estimating prices and value is sometimes difficult, because there virtually is nothing written about trains as a guide, he said. What information he derives is from old catalogs that

And here are a few

Holding up his pride and joy, a 1911 brass train that is one of only seven found in the country, Doug Nash of Garden City, a Romulus businessman, exhibits a corner of his basement workshop that is lined with electric trains. Ready to run right off the track in the foreground is the 1885 German Merklein train that is a wind-up model. Nash has worked at his hobby of collecting electric trains for only three years, and in that time has gathered an impression collection. — The Romulus Roman photo were published every year by the toy companies with pictures and price listings of current trains.

Nash runs continuous ads in at least seven newspapers requesting that anyone with an old train contact him. Averaging 10 to 15 calls per week, he estimated that usually he's lucky if he gets one train out of every 20 calls. Often, people will find old electric trains in the attic that were stored for years or handed down.

"Almost every good train I've gotten is one that has been handed down," Nash said.

NASH AND HIS wife, Betty, frequently travel to other states and areas to look at and buy trains.

There are three things that usually make a train valuable to a collector. First it's age, then it's rarity — depending on how many of the trains were made and sold at the time it was produced — then it's expense at the time it was sold.

If the train was very expensive when it was manufactured, chances are that few were sold, making it rare. There weren't a lot of people buying expensive trains during the depression years, so expensive trains from that era are not common.

Estimating value is often difficult, Nash said.

"PEOPLE ASK what it's worth and it's hard to tell them," he added. "They're worth what people will pay for them."

One gas company keeps ahead of the supply

By DON HOENSHELL, BOB BERG
AND WES THORP
The Roman Lansing Bureau
Third of a 3-part series

Michigan Consolidated Gas Co. will be piping fuel from Alaska and from coal gasification plants in the Dakotas by 1980.

That's the key to the gas game, keeping ahead of the supply.

Michigan Consolidated is the healthiest utility in Michigan with sales of 464 billion cubic feet of gas last year to 1,009,000 customers in 430 governmental units populated with 3.7 million people.

EVEN ITS MOST precise public and private critics contend that Michigan Consolidated is the best-managed utility in the state.

It has supplies that allow a growth of 18 billion cubic feet a year, is wrestling with the tough money market and is keeping its stockholders, if not serene, at least non-violent.

"The firm is able to grow and generate revenue but it's paying tremendous prices for money," President Hugh C. Daly said. "It has a $100 million construction budget this year and expects about the same next year."

Michigan Consolidated has huge underground storage fields to fill during the off-months and to tap during the peak winter season. It is placing its industrial customers on firm service and will abandon interruptible service.

SO MICHIGAN CONSOLIDATED Gas Co.

has apples in its cheeks while Detroit Edison Co., Consumers Power Co., and Michigan Bell Telephone Co., in a different way, are facing financial crises.

But Daly isn't giddy about it.

"It's not in the crisis that other utilities are in," he said. "At the moment, the company is in a somewhat better situation, but what happens to the others is going to impact severely on it."

"If investors see it is undesirable to invest in Detroit Edison or Consumers Power — even though Consolidated has a different supply system and a different demand (for capital) — it's going to have trouble."

"MICHIGAN HAS GOT to change the circumstances and must recognize that utility rates have to be increased. And utility rates have to be based on merit, not political expediency."

Daly's concept is that the public attitude must be changed from the feeling advanced by politicians that the utilities are gouging the ratepayer.

"The gas rates are the lowest of any of the 10 largest cities in the country," he said. "What other essential service do you know that has gone up only $3.50 a month in five years?"

"Are utilities causing the problem? No, but they're catching the flak."

GAS BILLS, BEFORE state and local taxes, were averaging $227 a year in Michigan Consolidated's area in August, compared to $543 in Boston; $441 in New York; $411 in Philadelphia; $394 in Washington, D.C.; $301 in Chicago; $278 in Pittsburgh; $271 in St. Louis; $253 in Los Angeles and $245 in San Francisco.

SINCE 1968, THE Michigan Consolidated average gas bill has increased $46.77 a year, or 25.86 per cent, compared to 87 per cent in San Francisco, 58 per cent in New York and 51 per cent in Boston.

HE SHAVED FOR CHARITY — The Belleville Area Lions Club's hearing and sight program is $200 richer thanks to James Visingardi, a Belleville supermarket owner, who accepted a dare to shave off his thick, full-grown beard for a $200 contribution to the Lions. Hirsute grocer shaves his beard

The owner of a Belleville area supermarket, James Visingardi, has worn a luxuriant beard for so long that even members of his family can't remember seeing him without it.

As a matter of fact his "well-developed" beard was the envy of some of the area beard men.

This week all that has been changed. Because Visingardi accepted a dare in behalf of the Belleville Area Lions Club of which he is a charter member.

VISINGARDI, who also is known as the "Pizza King" of Belleville, resides at 47745

North Shore Dr. He operates Jim's Supermarket located on W. Huron River Dr.

At a recently held meeting of the Belleville Area Lions Club, the discussion centered on how to raise funds for the Lions' hearing hand sight projects.

During the discussion, Visingardi offered a dare that he would shave off his beard for the first $200 contributed to the Lions. A local businessman, who wishes to remain unidentified, took him up on it.

A red carpet welcome was given Visingardi as he entered Bill Powell's Men's Styling Stall, located at 507 E. Huron River Dr., where the ceremonial beard-shaving ceremony.

THE $200 contribution was increased when Powell donated the beard shaving charge of $8 along with $1 contributions for 15 persons in attendance at the beard-cutting event.

To make sure that members of his family would recognize him when he arrived home, Visingardi's son, John, who witnessed the barber ceremony, accompanied his father home.

2 residents earn outstanding title

Two Belleville residents have been selected as Outstanding Young Men of America for 1974, according to Doug Blankenship, chairman of the board of advisors for the national awards publication.

David E. Lee of 45250 Venetian and Michael T. Ives of 397 Huron River Dr. were among a select group of young men from across the country to be cited as outstanding citizens in the 1974 edition of Outstanding Young Men of America, an annual biographical compilation sponsored by leading men's civic, service and professional organizations.

The awards volume features the accomplishments of approximately 6,300 young men of exceptional abilities and achievements, all between the ages of 21 and 35.

Criteria for inclusion in the volume are service to others, professional excellence, business advancement, charitable activities and civic and professional recognition.

The 1974 edition is scheduled for publication and national distribution in November.

From new authority

Sewer project gets nod

The newly formed Canton-Van Buren Township Water and Sewer Authority has approved the construction of $4.6 million of new water and sewer extensions in Van Buren Township.

The authority's action was taken at its first official session held at the Van Buren Township hall on Sept. 12.

Recently the Van Buren Township Board of Trustees approved a resolution authorizing entering into a contract with the authority for the construction of the new water and sewer line extensions.

AT THE SEPT. 12 session the four member authority, involving two officials from each community, signed and approved both the contract and its resolution.

An application for permission to float a bond issue to finance the proposed water and sewer line extensions is being prepared by township attorney John Axe and will be forwarded to the Michigan Municipal Finance Commission in Lansing for its approval.

Michigan laws authorize the incorporation of a joint water and sewer authority. The idea for the joint venture was proposed by Van Buren Township Supervisor G. Elton Gollwitzer to allow townships "to get out from under the control of Wayne County, especially regarding the issuance of bonds."

"THE COUNTY agency (Wayne County Road Commission) acts for townships in bonding matters unless it (the township) is a member of a joint authority," said Gollwitzer.

The stated purpose of the authority is to supervise the acquisition, ownership, improvement, enlargement, extension and operation of a water system or sewage disposal system within the boundaries of the two communities.

The Van Buren Township members of the authority are Stephanie Soja, deputy township clerk; and Floyd Griffith, local bank official. Canton Township is represented on the authority by Louis Stein, former Canton Township supervisor and retired member of the Wayne County Building Authority; and the Rev. Jeffrey Goldsmith, pastor of the Geneva United Presbyterian Church of Canton Township.

Romulus businessman makes trains his hobby

"Of course there are some trains made in the 1920s that aren't worth $10. These were trains made by the millions. Some aren't even worth taking home," Nash tries to devise different ways to advertise for trains, and once took out an ad in TV Guide to attract attention to his request.

"The biggest part is getting to people who have them," he said.

THE SON OF A collector of hundreds of Tootsie Toys such as automobiles, airplanes and little toy soldiers, Nash is from a family of collectors.

His mother and sister specialize in old glassware, and his wife enjoys collecting old doll furniture and tea sets.

Five-year-old Noelle, Nash's daughter, has grown up with the collection of trains, so the displays in the home are not in danger of being investigated with curious fingers.

After jumping into the hobby head first three years ago, Nash is not at all bored with the trains, although few of them are in running order and there is no track set up to run them anyway.

A garage full of tracks and switches await a day when the family moves into a bigger house that can accommodate a large train room, the collector said.

NASH BELONGS to the Train Collector's Association, a national organization of train enthusiasts that has a local chapter serving Detroit and Toledo. The organization publishes a quarterly magazine for members, who get together at meetings to discuss their hobbies, sell and trade.

Included in Nash's collection are Lionel and American Flyer trains, as well as a German Merklin train made in 1885, a wind-up model. The rarest thing in his collection is a brass train made in 1911, one of only seven found in this country since collecting became popular. Many of the other trains look pretty much alike to a non-specialist, although Nash knows the history and vital information of each.

A coin and stamp collector

since his boyhood years, too, Nash said: "I just like all old things, I guess."

It's an expensive hobby, and can cost as much as you care to spend, he added. Not everybody has the yen to be a collector, and maybe they wouldn't understand, but

Nash never gets tired of his trains, he's just a born collector.

THE COLLECTOR — There's more to train collecting than just collecting trains. Doug Nash also collects the things that go along with trains — bridges, stations and tunnels — that someday will provide the landscape for a train room where tracks will be laid out. The Romulus businessman is holding up a bridge made in 1930 as he displays a few of his collector's items. — The Romulus Roman photo.

Teachers campaign

An all-out school administrative campaign for voter approval of "urgently needed" operating millage for the 1974-1975 school year is in full swing in the Van Buren Public School District. Organizational plans, including the appointment of an 8-member steering committee, one from each of the school district's elementary schools, to assist in the approval drive recently were approved by the Van Buren Board of Education.

Plan for transportation entering its second phase

The Romulus plan for bringing a bus transportation program to the city is entering phase two.

The program has advanced from the talk stage into one of actual planning, and city officials are in the process of selecting the best route for the buses to follow through the city.

John Chhan, director of industrial development and planning, said the route being investigated would begin the Michigan Avenue-Wayne Road area, travel to Detroit Metropolitan Airport, circle Romulus, then head back toward Michigan Avenue to feed into the major trunk lines. The exact streets of the route still are undecided, he said. But he added that Wayne County General Hospital may be one of the stops.

The bus system would operate in conjunction with a plan developed by the Southeast Michigan Transportation Authority (SEMTA). SEMTA, however, has until Oct. 1 to submit its plan to the state for inclusion in the next fiscal year budget.

The Romulus committee studying the transportation plans, including Chhan and Councilman Jack Trumble, is expected to meet with SEMTA officials either today or tomorrow.

Under the terms of the original proposition by SEMTA, Romulus would receive free of charge the buses from SEMTA, and only would pay for operational costs.

Building to house city department

Ample storage room and work space are the key words for the new Romulus Department of Public Works (DPW) building east of the Romulus City Hall on Goddard Road.

"It's a great improvement over what the city had," said Romulus Mayor Terry L. Troutt at ribbon-cutting ceremonies held Monday in the building at 34100 Goddard. "The old DPW building was too small with improper storage room and work space.

"This building should last many, many years," he added.

The building, on a 13-acre parcel of land on the north side of Goddard, was bought by the city for $475,000 from a company intending to use the building as a sales location for pre-fab houses. The building was never used, however, and sold to the city. Romulus has since renovated the structure to the tune of $1 million, Troutt said.

Included in the facility are numerous rooms for offices and ample bays for equipment storage and repair work.

Several city officials, including Romulus Mayor Pro Tem Beverly McAnally, participated in the grand opening ceremonies.

Troutt said the old DPW building on Bibbins Street would be used partially as a temporary fire station and for office space.

District begins preschool

The Huron School District will kick off its fourth year of pre-kindergarten classes Tuesday at the Huron Elementary School, 24820 Merriman.

- is from a single-parent home;

- is an only child;
- has parents who did not complete high school, or parents to be overly shy or aggressive.

Dalley said bus transportation will be provided for the children. Interested parents are asked to apply at the school district offices, 24820 Merriman, or call 782-2441.

City will battle weeds

He said that if the city kills weeds on private property, the property owners will be assessed the cost of the weed kill.

Romulus' new noxious weed ordinance, requiring homeowners to kill weeds on their properties, will be put to the test soon as the city commences its program of weed elimination.

Romulus City Clerk Leonard Folmar said the city is beginning to cut weeds on road shoulders and corners, and eventually may go onto private property to eliminate weeds.

According to Huron Administrative Assistant Phillip Dalley, the class will run three days a week on Tuesday,

"We had received several complaints about traffic obstruction and felt this was the only action we could take," he added. "I said something's got to be done because someone's going to get killed. The ducks were on the south side of Goddard on the driveway of the fire station so I went out and shot them."

Richardson and Barnett claim the officers easily could have caught the animals and taken them away to another location, but said that method was not tried. Hargroves, however, insisted his officers had tried to catch the birds numerous times.

"WE'VE BEEN after them for more than two years," Hargroves said. "Nobody wanted to claim ownership of the ducks because they would be in violation of the law, since you must have a permit to house or harbor a wild animal. Every time one of our officers would get near a duck to catch it, the bird would fly away."

Barnett said the ducks only crossed the roads with the green light.

"They were real smart," he added.

Effective immediately, callers of the DPW should dial 941-0666 instead of the old 941-3333 number. The new number also is the main line into the Romulus City Hall.

According to city officials, all city departments eventually will be tied into the same 941-0666 line. Mayor Terry L. Troutt said the Animal Control Shelter will be changing to the number soon.

Michigan Con isn't experiencing crisis

Daly, a former Washington correspondent for the old Detroit Times, thinks it's odd that Michigan is a hotbed of political unrest over utility rates while other parts of the country are willing to pay more.

Twenty years ago, Michigan Consolidated's principle suppliers were Panhandle Eastern Pipe Line Co., Michigan-Louisiana Pipeline Co. and Michigan-Wisconsin Pipeline Co., an affiliate of Michigan Consolidated.

Now, under long-term contracts, the major supplier is Michigan-Wisconsin which provides 84.2 per cent. Panhandle provides 9.2 per cent, "our summer (storage) gas" and Great Lakes Transmission Co. 4.7 per cent. The rest comes from newly-developed small wells in northern Michigan.

BUT ALL OF Michigan Con's suppliers will need more gas to meet their contract commitments. That's one reason the company is looking ahead to Alaska and the Dakotas.

The point is that Michigan Consolidated stays ahead of today and plans for tomorrow.

So Michigan Consolidated was able to sell 122 million cubic feet of gas to Consumers Power to help it through the winter. The gas was delivered months ago but the Michigan Public Service Commission set the price only in August of this year.

Michigan Consolidated and Con-

power and the people

sumers agreed on a price of 87 cents a thousand cubic feet, but Atty. Gen. Frank J. Kelley objected because of the markup of 36 cents. The final price was 87 cents.

"MICHIGAN Consolidated must sell this gas because its customers' present needs are met and it physically is incapable of storing this gas because all of its storage fields are completely full," Kelley said.

He wanted the price to be 51 cents, the wholesale price to Michigan Consolidated.

In the financial area, Michigan Con's rate of return to stockholders is 12.2 per cent compared to 8.4 per cent for Detroit Edison and 6.3 per cent for Consumers Power.

A bond prospectus filed last July 30, said the company's longterm debt was $381.6 million, down $40 million from the year before.

BUT WITH ALL the glowing health of Michigan Con, a funny thing happened on the way to Wall Street.

In the early days before soaring interest rates, Michigan Con sold 25-year bonds at rates ranging from three per cent to 8 1/2 per cent. The latest this year was 10.6 per cent on $40 million in 8-year bonds.

There are two reasons: Investors are reluctant to tie up their money in inflated dollars for long periods of time and there is a feeling that natural gas resources are diminishing.

Increased revenue from rates would restore investor confidence, shake loose more capital and help all Michigan utilities.

THEN DALY stated a truism that applies to most other issues as well as utility rates. There are views of the future which include electric blackouts and fuel shortages if the utilities are not helped now.

"The trouble is that politicians react to crises," Daly said. "Then it's too late for the utilities as well as Mr. and Mrs. Homeowner."

City has ugly cover; Burnt shell standing

It is said that you can't judge a book by its cover. But an ugly cover does little to promote readership of the book.

Such is the case in the City of Romulus, a city restless to burst from its bonds of slow-moving progress.

Officials are eager to modernize the city and make it one to be proud of — a city of tomorrow.

Or so the residents are led to believe. IF ROMULUS' image is of such importance and the administration wishes to make it a community bursting with pride, why keep the ugly cover?

We are referring to the unsightly, burned-out shell of a house standing in plain view of passing motorists at the Ecorse-Wayne roads intersection.

The scorched building has stood in its grotesque condition almost one year, since it was hit by several arson fires last October. City officials have promised to demolish it, but still it stands.

One month ago the city hall listed the house on its immediate demolition list, but a bulldozer hasn't come anywhere near the structure yet.

PASSING MOTORISTS can't help but see the house, which certainly does little for Romulus' image. A stranger to the area might even think the city doesn't care.

A spokesman for the Romulus Urban Renewal Department said the house isn't the department's responsibility, but if razing the structure isn't urban renewal, what is?

We think it's time for action.

Milliken backs request for employe pay hike

By BOB BERG
Enterprise-Roman Lansing Bureau

Gov. William G. Milliken has decided to support an inflation caused Christmas present for all state employes this year in the form of an across the board 27 cent-per-hour wage hike.

The increase will go into effect Dec. 29 if approved by the legislature before then. It was recommended unanimously by the State Civil Service Commission, which acted in the wake of unprecedented inflation.

All state employes would receive the same hourly wage hike of 27 cents per hour so it will mean an increase ranging from 7.6 per cent down to 1.5 per cent, depending on an employee's current pay level.

THE ESTIMATED cost of the increase is $15.2 million for the current fiscal year, requiring some adjustments in state budget expenditures because the original projected surplus only amounted to $300,000.

However, Milliken's office of management and budget told him they thought the pay raise could be implemented by slowing down on state hiring as positions become vacant, and he told them to work a plan up to enable the state to afford the pay raise for the more than 50,000 state civil service employees.

Each state employee will receive an additional $282 the first six months of 1975 under the plan.

The State Compensation Advisory Board had recommended in July that state employes receive a 50 cent-an-hour additional pay raise, but Milliken believed that was more than the state could afford.

CIVIL SERVICE Commission Chairman James W. Miller said the commission considered both the state's financial condition and the needs of employes in making its recommendations.

"The commission arrived at this specific figure after considering all of the material before it, including recognition of the difficulty to be faced in obtaining the necessary funds to finance the action," he said. "The commission was concerned with balancing the needs of state employes with the state's revenue difficulties. State employes can't be expected to absorb all of the inflationary effects."

The commission has asked the attorney general for an opinion on its powers to put a cost of living clause in state pay rates to make special pay hikes unnecessary. That opinion was requested last December, but nothing has yet been heard from Atty. Gen. Frank J. Kelley.

Such a clause would mean no special legislative action would be needed to cushion state employes from high inflation rates.

State employes form a powerful lobby in the Capitol and there is little doubt of legislative approval of the additional pay hike, especially now that it has the governor's backing.

Reps appreciate park cooperation

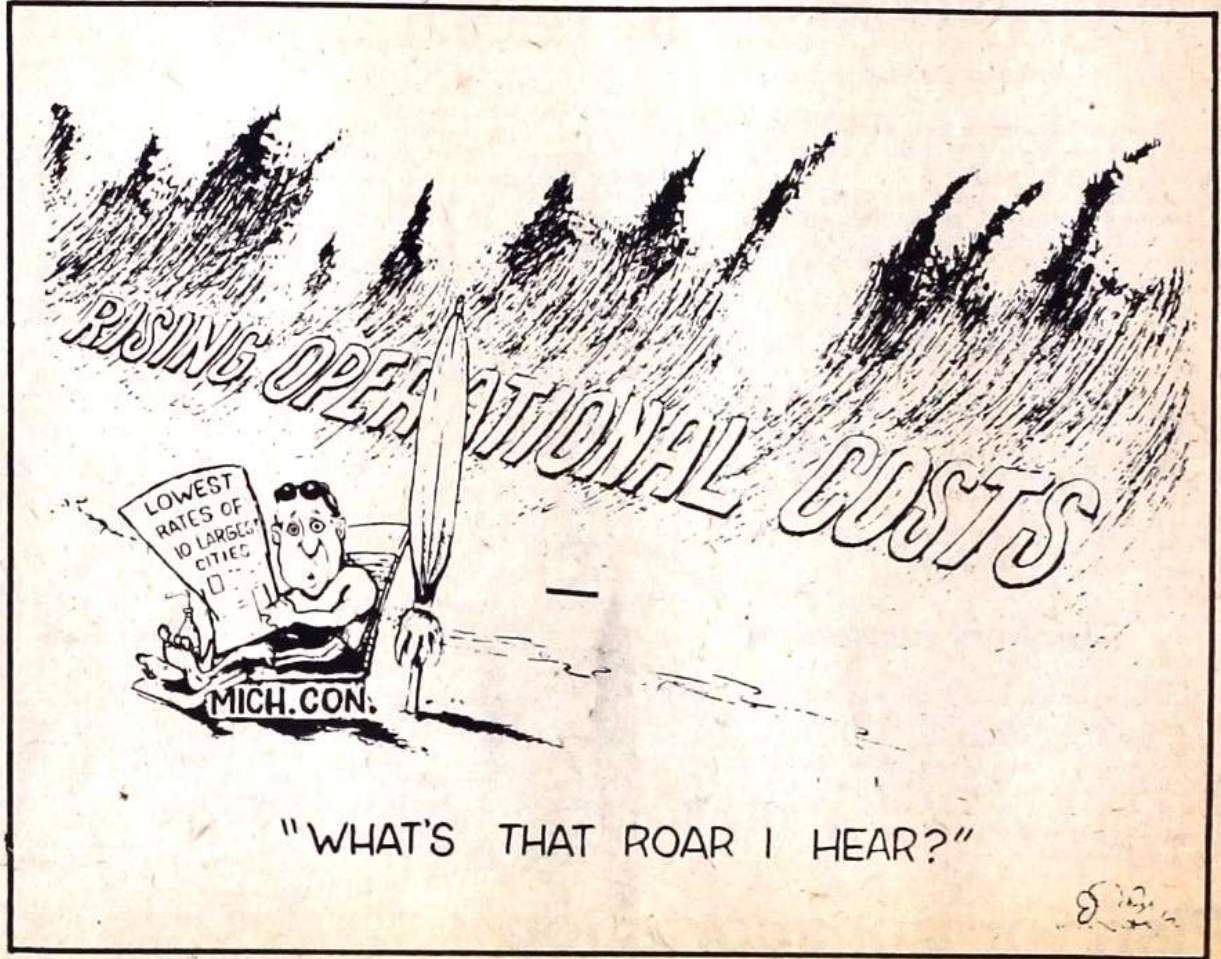

To The Editor and to all those who visited Van Buren Park this summer: Our sincere appreciation and many thanks for your cooperation and help in keeping the park clean.

We especially are pleased with the young people who helped us to clean up the park last spring. They were ambitious, hard working folks who seemed to enjoy their work.

These same young people continued to keep the park neat throughout the summer. The entire community should be proud to have youth such as these in our area.

We also would like to extend our thanks to the rest of the community for its support. We look forward to working with all of you again next year.

Thanks again,

Unrestrained occupant causes crash injuries

Western Wayne County residents who do not wear seatbelts may be endangering more than just their own lives and safety. According to a study by researchers at The University of Michigan (U-M), a significant number of automobile crash injuries are the result of collisions between unrestrained occupants of the vehicle.

Speaking before the 18th annual conference of the American Association for Automotive Medicine, Donald F. Hueke, Ph.D., professor of anatomy at the U-M Medical School, reported on the results of a study of more than 4,000 detailed, automobile crash reports.

He told the group of medical scientists and automotive engineers that occupant-to-occupant collisions caused or aggravated injuries in 22 per cent of the reported crashes where the car had more than one person in it.

"NOT ONLY ARE injuries produced by the direct impact of one occupant to another, but often such contact forces an occupant into or against some interior car structure," Dr. Hueke said. "Such occupant-to-occupant contact may cause an injury that would not have been sustained, or produces a more serious injury that would not have been incurred, had such contact been avoided."

Using the American Medical Association's "abbreviated injury scale" to gauge the relative severity of such injuries, Dr. Hueke added that while the majority fell at the lower end of the scale, 13 per cent were classified as severe to fatal.

Of those, the great majority, including all fatalities, resulted when the occupant collision caused or intensified contact with one or more parts of the car's interior.

Dr. Hueke presented five typical cases of occupant collisions, taken from his own studies of accidents in Washtenaw County.

YOUNG CHILDREN were killed in two cases when they were crushed against the car's interior by the unrestrained body of an adult. Other cases described rear-seat passengers being thrown against the front seat, pushing it forward, or actually pitching over the seat and colliding with the passengers there.

Only one case came to light, in which a belted passenger, by being tall enough to flex forward into the back of the driver's seat, aggravated another person's injuries, he added.

"The data and cases presented refute the argument that the unrestrained occupant 'only kills or injures himself.' Restraining occupants in their respective seating positions would decrease occupant injuries by this mechanism of body-to-body injuries," Dr. Hueke said. "Those who are debating mandatory seatbelt laws and requirements for ignition interlock systems should take note of this report."

"There is no question but that mandatory use of passenger restraint systems can help protect not only the restrained individual, but other occupants of the car, as well."

Romulus sets target for school millage vote

The Romulus Board of Education has selected April as the target date for the school district's millage renewal election.

A 9-mill property tax levy for school operations, approved by the voters in 1970, expires with the collection of the 1974 school property taxes.

Romulus School Supt. Robert L. McConeghy has advised the school board of the expiration of this millage and requested directions in the preparation of submitting a millage renewal proposal to the voters.

The 9-mill levy represents

$1,800,000 of the district's operating revenues.

In other matters the school board authorized the administration to seek a building site for the home construction program of the district's building trades class.

The school board also:

—Approved a request submitted by the Romulus recreation department for the use of school buses for the transportation of senior citizens in the city's recreational programs during the 1974-75 year.

—Approved the continuance of Bible Clubs in the Cory,

Merriman and Mt. Pleasant Elementary Schools.

—Named the district's proposed new school as Barth Elementary School. The new school is slated for 38207 Barth Rd., Romulus. Preparations for its construction are under way.

Stolen car is recovered from lake

Curious residents living near Belleville, Lake (above, left) look on as divers from the Wayne County Sheriff's Department Marine Division (above, right) locate and secure a stolen 1970-model car that had been spotted under 15 feet of water in the lake last week. When officers succeeded in attaching a tow line to the sunken auto, Romulus wrecker driver Joe Crova (opposite, standing on bank) was able to tow the vehicle up from the spot where it lay at the bottom of a boat-launching ramp at the foot of Edgemont Street in Van Buren Township. The Chevrolet had been reported stolen from an address on Treadwell in Wayne, and sheriff's detectives are currently investigating the case. — The Enterprise-Roman photos.

Board OKs restaurant bid

The rezoning of a 2-lot parcel to allow the construction of a new Big Boy Restaurant in Van Buren Township has been approved by the Van Buren Township Board.

The board's recent action in approving a change in the present zoning of single-family to general business was in line with previous approvals recommended by the township planning commission and the Wayne County Planning Commission.

The county planners in recommending rezoning approval to the township board said the proposed Big Boy Restaurant, slated for Belleville Road just north of I-94, would be a big asset to the community.

IN OTHER BUSINESS, the township board approved an agreement change involving the City of Belleville, Wayne County Road Commission and the township on construction plans regarding the current construction of a 30-inch sanitary sewer line extension through Belleville to the southwest section of the township.

The sewer line when completed will serve 4,500 families now using septic tanks.

County officials requested agreement changes which the township attorney said were merely technical.

The township board also:

—APPROVED a request of the Huron Valley Steel Corp., 4100 Huron River Dr., Belleville, for permission to allow a small water pumping station on township lake front property.

Leonard Fritz, company president, told the township board the pumping station would be used for the beautification of the entire area.

VB dog warden issues 16 tickets

Sixteen dog owners residing in Van Buren Township have been accused of violating provisions of the township's dog ordinance by Dog Warden John Price.

The violation citations, issued during August, called for court appearance of the dog owner.

The township dog pound also investigated 99 complaints, impounded 68 dogs including 67 strays found in the township and received nine bite reports, according to an August operation report issued by the dog warden.

VETERANS' INSURANCE ACT OF 1974:

Here's a brief rundown on PL93-289, the Veterans' Insurance Act of 1974. Among other things, the new law (1) increases the maximum amount of Servicemen's Group Life Insurance (SGLI) to $20,000 (2) provides for full-time coverage for certain members of the Reserves and National Guard (3) authorizes conversion of such insurance to Veterans' Group Life Insurance (4) authorizes allotment from the pay of National Guard members for group life insurance premiums and (5) creates or extends coverage to all servicemen discharged since Aug. 1, 1970.

On the last item, there are about 2.4 million veterans who were separated since that date who may be carrying lesser amounts of insurance and who may wish to increase coverage....All are eligible to apply for an amount equal to the amount of SGLI coverage carried while in service less any amount which may have been converted....

The new act changes Veterans Special Life Insurance (RS-W) from non-participating to participating. This means that some small dividends will be paid on anniversary dates in 1975....Some 600,000 RS-W policyholders will receive a form this month or next on which may be selected the option for payment of the 1975 dividend. For more specific and complete answers to questions on this new insurance, or a checkup on old insurance programs, contact a VA insurance representative.

MRS. MARK C. HURST

Mark C. Hurst, Shalimar Beaty exchange vows

Holy Trinity Chapel on the campus of Eastern Michigan University was the setting for the recent marriage of Shalimar Beaty and Mark C. Hurst who are now making their home in Ann Arbor.

The Rev. C. Peter Dougherty officiated the nuptial service which united the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edsel R. Beaty of Bog Road, Belleville, and the son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles A. Hurst of Forrest Avenue, Dexter, in holy matrimony.

The bride chose Linda Shpakoff of Wyandotte to be matron of honor. Bridesmaids were Carol Mull and Diane Lask of Ann Arbor and Jennie Hurst, Sally Hurst and Mary Hurst, all of Dexter.

BEST MAN WAS Bob Egan of Dexter. Others on the esquire side were Bob Beaty of Ann Arbor; Jim Hudson of Grass Lake; Brian Beaty of Belleville; Dennis Lovely of Chelsea and Jim Austin of Ann Arbor.

Ann Holden of Ann Arbor carried out the role of flowergirl with Scott Curd of Dearborn serving as ringbearer.

Following a dinner reception at Union Local No. 735 Hall in Belleville, the newlyweds departed for a honeymoon in Hawaii.

The new Mrs. Hurst graduated from Lincoln High School in Ypsilanti, attended Eastern Michigan University and is now employed by Ford Motor Credit Co. in Dearborn. Her husband, an alumnus of Dexter High School, attended Central Michigan University and is currently working at Dancer's in Stockbridge.

Arizona is new home for newly wed Stuarts

The newly wed David E. Stewarts are making their home at Garden Canyon Trailer Court, Lot No. 77, in Sierra Vista, Ariz. while Pvt. Stewart is serving with the U.S. Army at Ft. Huachuca.

Theresa Ann Howard, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Albert S. Howard of 8966 Grover, Romulus, became Mrs. Stewart in an afternoon summer ceremony at the Community United Methodist Church of Romulus. The Rev. Paul Greer presided at the double ring rite with Nancy Fuller providing organ music for the occasion.

The bride, given in marriage by her parents, wore a gown of white Chantilly lace styled with a high stand-up collar, long tapered sleeves and an apron effect on the front of the bouffant skirt.

HER CHAPEL veil was caught to a petite pearl and rhinestone tiara and she carried a bouquet of rainbow-colored carnations and roses surrounding a single yellow rose and circlet of white carnations and red roses.

Vari-colored pastel gowns were worn by the bride's four attendants who donned lace-trimmed nylon creations reminiscent of the antebellum era. Esther Myers of Romulus served as honor attendant with Brenda Pressler, Shirley Lamberson and the bride's sister, Emily Wood, all of Romulus, as bridesmaids.

The flowergirl, 11-year-old Cheryl Eves, appeared in a long blue frock with a white lace bib bodice. Her silver tiara held a short veil of blue and white netting.

Ringbearer was eight-year-old Donnie Daughenbacegh. THE BRIDEGROOM, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur T. Stewart of 9417 Essex, Romulus, chose the bride's brother, Milton Wood, to be best man. Ushers, all from Romulus, were Keith Howard, brother of the bride; Rodger Jackson, her cousin and Paul Stewart, brother of the bridegroom.

The V.F.W. Hall in Romulus was reserved for the reception which followed. The bride's mother greeted guests in a formal gown of white taffeta and lace with her corsage of yellow carnations worn at the wrist.

Prior to her marriage, the new Mrs. Stewart (a 1974 Romulus High School graduate) was employed at Armour Industries, Inc. of Romulus. The couple honeymooned enroute to their new home in Arizona.

JOIN RED CROSS TEAM — The week of September 22-28 is Red Cross Volunteer Recruitment Week for the Southeastern Michigan Chapter, American Red Cross. Cross volunteers in Western Wayne County and Mrs. Gerald Wiggins of Bloomfield Hills, chairman, Red Cross Office of Volunteers. "Get Involved...Join Our Team," is the theme of the campaign. Persons interested in becoming Red Cross volunteers may call the Red Cross office nearest them for additional information.

BPW observes 27th birthday

The Belleville Business and Professional Women's Club held its regular monthly meeting at South Junior High School. A buffet-potluck was served including a cake celebrating the group's 27th birthday. A coincidence was noted since exactly 27 members were present for the evening. There were also four guests: Clotilde Guisasaola, Evelyn Pullen, Juanita Akers and Mabel Hall.

The 1974-75 program was discussed with "Woman: Source of Energy" as the state and local theme for the year. Mary Hoff of the "do something" committee reported on a day care program which is much needed in the Belleville area. Two past members, Aldine Potter and Joan Oddy, were welcomed back and presented with roses by Ruth Davis, membership chairman.

The fall rummage sale Sept. 28 was discussed. Anyone with donations may take them to Midge Artley's barn at 854 W. Columbia Ave. for storage. The sale is being co-chaired by Jean McArdle and Marilyn Montgomery.

Betty Savage reported on contributions sent to the national organization to support the Equal Rights Amendment. Only five more states are needed in order for it to become part of the U.S. constitution.

At Home Arts Club

Modern dance sets mood

The opening meeting of the Home Arts Club for the 1974-75 season resulted in the discovery of a few unused and "hidden" muscles as the group took a turn at modern dance Sept. 9. Under the direction of Maxie Jo Haase, who teaches the subject for the Van Buren Recreation Department, the potential Martha Graham's "let themselves go" as they assumed the many contract-and-release positions.

Angela Hampton had agreed to take over her duties for the year.

Program chairman, Virginia Turney, outlined plans for the next few months with the annual smorgasbord slated for Oct. 14. Her committee, which has set up a Christmas workshop for the November meeting and already scheduled the traditional holiday party in December, includes Eunice Kause, Lucille Bravatto and Marge Hosman.

Twenty-three members answered roll call with five guests, Lois Wilson, Marge Vaughn, Debbie Elchold, Kathy Wolfe and Wendy Turney introduced.

The evening concluded with refreshments served by Eula Haft, Audrey Tabor, Betty Gott and Sharon Richendollar.

Fish fries resumed by WOTM

Women of the Moose, Chapter No. 1135, held their first fish fry of the year with an encouraging turnout which they hope will be repeated each Friday from 5 to 8 p.m. at the lodge.

At the Monday night meeting, one new member, Ann Nino, was enrolled. The next meeting is scheduled for Sept. 23 and members are urged to attend.

Nobledds have a new daughter, she's Krista Lynn

Seven-year old Kimberly Nobledd is giving her mother a hand these pre-fall days with the new addition to their household — A baby girl who was born Aug. 23.

Named Krista Lynn, the newcomer made her debut at Beyer Hospital in Ypsilanti and weighed in at 8 lbs., 6 oz. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Nobledd of 37800 Westvale, Romulus, and the granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Nobledd of Dearborn Heights and Mr. and Mrs. William Noland of Reading.

Babies arrive on 'special' dates--mom's, grandfather's birthdays

"Happy birthday" had a very special meaning to Carol Kessler on Sept. 7 since it was on that day her baby son arrived at Annapolis Hospital in Wayne.

Sharing his mom's natal date from now on, Clint Ian Kessler put in his appearance at 3:43 a.m. and weighed in at 8 lbs., 8½ oz. His dad, John Kessler, announced the news to both sets of grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Clinton McNett and Mr. and Mrs. Edward Kessler, all of Romulus. The new mother, the former Carol McNett, and her "men" make their home at 14354 Hannan Rd., Romulus.

Walter Rutkowski of Romulus was doubly proud to announce the arrival of his new granddaughter since she picked just the right date — his birthday — on which to make her debut. Lesley Anne was the name chosen by Ted and Carol Gilliland of 37065 Porter, Romulus, for their little girl born Aug. 15 at Riverside Hospital in Trenton.

Mrs. Rutkowski, of course, joins her husband's happiness over the birth of the 8 lb., 1 oz. heir. The infant's paternal grandparents, also of Romulus, are Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Gilliland.

Area couple plan to wed in April

An April wedding is planned for Pamela Fallot of Westland and Gary Truskowski of Wayne.

Miss Fallot, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Fallot of Westland, is a 1972 graduate of Wayne Memorial High School. She is employed at Unistrut Corp. in Wayne.

Truskowski is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Truskowski of Wayne. A graduate of Wayne Memorial High in 1969, he is employed at the U.S. Post Office in Romulus.

LEARNING HOW TO FLY CAST — The Van Buren Township Recreation Department will begin classes in fly casting today at the South Junior High School in Belleville. Getting an early start at fly casting instructions are Patricia Kuhr, (left) township ordinance officer, and Denise Breazeale, recreation department secretary. They are with Jeffery G. Clark, recreation director for the township, who will be conducting the fly casting classes. The fee for the fly casting course is $3. — The Enterprise-Roman photo.

In Van Buren

State deals with ice traps

Drivers in Van Buren Township can expect less ice along the US-12 cutoff this winter, according to Sen. William Faust (D-Westland). "The State Highway

Department will take bids Sept. 18 on construction of drains to trap water that seeps from the banks along the cutoff," Faust said. "That seepage in the past has collected on the pavement and frozen during winter months to create a serious traffic hazard."

The portion of the US-12 cutoff involved in the project runs from the Wayne County line east of the Penn Central Railroad bridge in Van Buren Township north of Willow Run Airport.

"This project will cost less than $25,000, a price well worth the injuries and destruction it will prevent," Faust explained. Completion is scheduled by December of this year.

9 area residents receive diplomas

Nine Western Wayne County residents were among students attending Eastern Michigan University in Ypsilanti to receive baccalaureate degrees during commencement exercises at the close of the summer term. Included were Belleville residents:

Janis Fairbanks of 46000 Lake Villa Dr., Joanne Herkimer of 46845 Denton Rd., Dale Randall of 40 Birch Dr., Sharon Smith of 6214 Gilmore, Phillip Wheeler Jr. of 524 E. Huron River Dr. and Robert Zimmerman of 46020 Lake Villa Dr.

Also Romulus residents: Valerie Barkus of 8619 Whitehorn, Laura Gale of 9515 Michael Dr. and Jeffrey Lamb of 23882 Brownstown.

New model cars

Though some 1975 model cars sold in the United States will not be equipped with catalytic reactors, all new model cars should be operated on unleaded gasoline, according to auto experts at Boron Oil Co. Those without the reactors will be able to meet clean air standards solely by operating on unleaded gas.

Autumn activities thrive

There is plenty of recreation available this fall at the Lower Huron Metropark near Belleville, one of seven Metroparks of the Huron-Clinton Metropolitan Authority.

Included on the 1,200 acres of land which comprise Lower Huron Metropark are picnic and playfield areas, an 18-hole golf course, tot lot and shuffleboard courts as well as nature trails for self-guided hikes, open daily.

Park hours are sunrise to 11 p.m. daily. Further information may be obtained by calling 697-9181.

Church is ready for show

The annual arts and crafts show of the SS Peter and Paul Orthodox Church will be held from 10 a.m. to 8 p.m. Saturday at the Gilbert Hall, 3810 Gilbert St., Detroit. The hall is west of Livernois and south of Michigan Avenue.

Featured will be many talented and creative craftsmen and artists. All are welcome to attend and browse around. Ethnic food will be served at the show and admission is free. Helen Kulchinsky at 422-4070 is chairman.

With $450 grant

Council funds crisis center

A grant of $450 to assist in the 1974-75 operation of Belleville's crisis-counseling center, "The Number," has been approved by the Belleville City Council.

The city's appropriation, which was authorized at the council's recent session, was $100 above last year's contribution, but far below the $1,800 sought by The Rev. David Lee, president of the center's board of trustees.

The Number provides crisis-counseling service over a telephone hot line 24 hours a day. It also has sponsored and supervised a number of area youth dances and currently plans to expand programs for the aged, as well as for youth, including a walk-in mental health counseling center in the Belleville area.

AT THE SEPT. 3 meeting of the city council, The Rev. Lee told council members that the crisis counseling center urgently needed the $1,800 to continue and expand its operations. The $1,800 is based on a monthly contribution of $150.

In February, F. Robert Harkai, then director of the center's hot line, made a request to the city council for funding at the rate of $150 per month, which was the same amount contributed by two area townships, including Van Buren.

The council deferred action on the request until it could learn what the city's federal revenue-sharing fund allocation would be for the year.

Later in June, the council voted to allocate revenue-sharing funds to a street improvement project.

THE $300 appropriated to the center in 1973 came from the city's revenue-sharing money.

Belleville Mayor Royce E. Smith and some council members told The Rev. Lee that the city could not afford to pay the amount he requested.

COUNCILMAN Ellis Amerman said it was unfair to ask a city with a population of approximately 3,000 people to pay the same as Van Buren Township with a population of more than 15,000.

Councilman Kenneth Palmer proposed that the city appropriate another $300 while Councilman Robert Tontalo moved that the city give $900.

Tontalo's motion was defeated by a 3-2 vote with Smith, Amerman and Palmer voting no and Tontalo and Councilman Howard R. Stinehour voting yes.

Trustees adopt by-laws to define commission

The Van Buren Township Board of Trustees unanimously has approved the adoption of revised by-laws and rules of procedure for the Van Buren Township Recreation Commission.

The new bylaws and rules were compiled by the commission and reviewed by the township attorney and Van Buren Recreation Director Jeffery G. Clark.

The powers and duties of the recreation commission are set up specifically and detailed in the by-laws as well as the duties of the officers of the commission.

THE REGULAR meetings of the recreation commission are conducted at 8 p.m. on the third Thursday of each month at the township hall, 46425 Tyler Rd.

The township board also approved a change in the resolution creating the recreation commission. The change states that no member shall serve more than two consecutive terms on the commission.

A THOUGHT TO REMEMBER

HAROLD REDISKE, JR. — DIRECTORS

Nearly everyone knows the words in the Lord's Prayer, but do we really know what they mean? Do we really know, for example, what is meant by "hallowed be Thy name"? Do we really pray with a feeling of awesome respect of His majestic perfection, power and influence? Or do we pray in conversational manner like we talk to people in general? Do we really mean it when we say, "They will be done"? Are we really willing to accept His will, His decisions, which often require submission of our wishes, wants and desires? Are we really willing to change what we know is a top-sided way of life in order to live the way He wants us to live? Do we really mean it when we pray, "As we forgive those who trespass against us"? Do we really forgive those who hurt us and especially those who neither ask or expect forgiveness for their hurts?

Does not a truthful answer to such questions give us a probable, or at least a partial answer to the question of why He does not always grant all our wishes, wants and desires?

DO-IT-YOURSELF POOL — These amateur pool 'hustlers' enjoy playing the game at home on a professional table they built themselves from plans made available by the Associated Newspapers Pattern Dept. of Van Nuys, Calif.

For under $100

You can make this pool table

Those would-be pool sharks who have long-dreamed of having a pool table in their own home, but have never been able to afford the big price tags, can now build a professional table themselves for less than $100.

Steve Ellingson of the Associated Newspapers Pattern Dept. of Van Nuys, Calif. claims that, using his plans, a handsome pool table with all the features of models costing as much as $500 can be built by the home handyman for approximately $90.

The table, with features found only in commercial models costing as much as $500, can be built at home for approximately $90.

A high-speed ball return — a system which the designer says cannot jam — is built into the table, along with a spacious ball box for easy access, a curved apron which not only adds to the attractiveness of the table but also permits proper geometric layout of the pockets, and adjustable legs for proper leveling of the table surface.

When not being used for relaxing games, the table may be covered with two hinged plywood panels, providing a large dining table, an excellent platform for electric trains or model cars, or a handy layout table for home dressmaking or sewing.

The table design, listed as Professional Pool Table Plan, No. 475, is available from Ellingson at Associated Newspapers Pattern Dept., P.O. Box 2383, Van Nuys, Calif. 91409. The plans cost $2.25, which includes postage and handling. Those desiring air mail delivery should send 25-cents extra to cover the cost.

All orders must be accompanied by payment in cash, check or money order.

Smart shoppers shun cheap pipes

The cheapest isn't always the "best buy." This is especially true in plumbing fixtures, faucets, shower heads, pipe, valves and drains, according to James Mason, secretary-manager of the Plumbing and Heating Industry of Detroit.

And it's just as true in homes and apartments as it is in commercial and institutional buildings. Here's why:

—Cheap fixtures are usually undersized and lose their luster more quickly.

—Cheap faucets, shower heads and valves won't stand up under continuous use. They often break down within the first year and must be replaced, whereas quality products costing only a little more will last up to 15 years or more, and in some cases even as long as the building.

—When it comes to piping or valves behind the wall or under the floor, quality is even more important, because to replace it calls for breaking through the wall or floor.

The cost of replacing cheap fixtures or other plumbing is only part of the frustration. Undersized fixtures are a source of inconvenience and irritation. According to a recent survey, more than 50 per cent of the respondents said the lavatory bowl and water closet in their bathrooms are too small.

"Plumbing is one place where the 'most expensive' is most often the cheapest," Mason said. "Also, the difference in original cost between the cheapest and the best is surprisingly small."

Article has hints for bright lights

Taking steps to conserve on lights involves little or no sacrifice and may even give you more light than you presently have, according to an article in a recent issue of American Home magazine. Following are some of the suggestions given in the article:

—Keep lamps and light fixtures clean. When diffusers, shades, reflectors or bulbs become coated with dirt, you get less light than you're paying for.

—Fluorescent lights are about four times as efficient as incandescents, give off much less heat and last seven to 10 times longer. The objection to fluorescent's cold white light isn't as valid as it used to be, the article said.

—Ceiling-suspended fixtures direct light up, down and to the sides. With these fixtures you need only about one watt of electricity for each square foot of floor space. Fixtures recessed in the ceiling require doubling or tripling the wattage to give you an equivalent amount of light.

—The color of your interiors influences the light level in a room, the article states. Light colors reflect much more light than dark colors do. For example, white reflects 90 per cent of the light; lemon yellow, 65 per cent; sky blue, 42 per cent and brown, 24 per cent. You should consider this when it comes time to repaint.

Pamphlet advises care when using cleansers

Shopping for household cleaners gets more complicated as the selection increases. But by choosing wisely you can save money, avoid chemical hazards, safeguard the surfaces you clean, and keep to a minimum the number of products you need.

The General Services Administration (GSA) has published a new booklet to help you select and then get the most from cleaning products. Called "Household Cleaners," it is the 18th publication in GSA's Consumer Information Series. Copies are available for 30 cents from Consumer Information, Pueblo, Colo. 81009.

There are three basic types of cleaners. First are cleaners that work with water. They are: inexpensive for the cleaning power provided; versatile because they can be mixed to various strengths or combined for special applications; compact to store because they are concentrated powder crystals, or solutions; and safe for most washable surfaces.

THESE WOULD include all-purpose products, detergents, cleansers, bleaches and fabric shampoos.

Then there are cleaners that work without water. Many contain solvents and are ready to use as they come from the container. They are primarily for use on surfaces water would harm and on materials where water cleaners won't work.

Most are easy and safe to use. But some can be dangerous. Read the labels carefully.

These products include drycleaning fluids, wood waxes and oils, leather preservatives, woodwork cleaners, kitchen and bath cleaners, and metal polishes. THE THIRD type are the strong cleaners used for drains, toilets and ovens. All can be dangerous and should be used with great care.

On home insurance

Government agency notes effects of inflation

Do you know what it would cost to replace your house today?

Before you answer, consider how long ago you tried to make such an estimate.

Even if it was as little as a year ago, your figures probably are out of date, according to the Insurance Information Institute.

A BRIEF LOOK at some elements of the Consumer Price Index (CPI) of the U.S. Department of Labor show why.

For instance, these statistics show that $100 worth of construction in 1967 would have cost $152 in December 1973, an increase of more than 50 per cent.

Later CPI figures for specific areas of home construction and maintenance paint an even darker picture.

For instance, $100 worth of house maintenance and repairs in 1967 would have cost $162.20 in March 1974. Figures for the same period show that the cost had risen to $145.10 for the commodities used in house maintenance and repair; $169.60 for the services needed in house maintenance and repair; $179.80 for repainting living and dining rooms; $180.50 for resingling roofs; and $159.50 for residing houses.

WITH THESE skyrocketing costs, the institute said that you may find yourself faced with repair and reconstruction costs that far exceed your insurance coverage. This would be particularly true, if you have not checked your coverage for several years.

This spiraling inflation has been aggravated by the shortage of petroleum, which is a necessary ingredient in the basic primary fuel used for the production of such things as heating and electrical insulation, plumbing materials and roof tiles.

It is surprising how many home owners fail to realize that their insurance protection is inadequate, said the institute. An analysis of fire losses on homes in one state, for example, revealed that only one home owner in three carried enough insurance to cover even half the replacement value of his house.

Assuming that it would cost $30,000 to replace your house at today's swollen prices, how much insurance should you carry on it? Since you will collect no more than the face amount of your policy should you have a total loss, it is easy to see the advisability of not having coverage in excess of your home's full value.

MOST PERSONS who own their homes have them insured under a special package policy commonly called a homeowners policy. This policy is also available to those persons who rent homes or apartments and thus need insurance only on their personal property or to protect them against any liability which they may incur as the result of anyone being injured in their home.

Within the package of coverages in the homeowners policy is a clause called the replacement cost provision. This provision gives the property owner an added advantage when it comes to claims for partial damages to his house. If he carries insurance at 80 per cent of value or more (in the case of a $30,000 home this would be $24,000) claims involving damage to the building are settled on the basis of the full cost of replacing or repairing. In other words, no deductions would be made by depreciation, as is customary in settling insurance losses. If his insurance equals less than 80 per cent of value, he will receive less than replacement cost but in no event less than actual cash value (replacement cost less depreciation).

TO ILLUSTRATE further how the replacement cost provision works, let's see how it would apply to a specific situation.

Assume that painting and other interior decorating in a house has a life of 10 years. Also assume that smoke damages the interior of a house decorated five years earlier. Under the replacement cost provision, the full costs of repainting and redecorating would be paid by the insurance company. Without the provision, the insurance company would pay only one-half of the loss.

Homes require safety along with its security

Ask people whether they live in a safe house or apartment and many will answer in terms of burglar alarms, locks and the absence or presence of neighborhood crime. When Stanley Schuler and Elizabeth Meriwether Schuler, authors of "The Householders' Encyclopedia," speak of safety, they are interested in whether you have removed the booby traps that can be found in almost every home.

Here are the Schulers' suggestions for the repairs or improvements you can make in a house or apartment to prevent accidents:

—Build railings on all unprotected stairs and porches. They should be 32 inches high. Close in the space below the handrail with balusters or additional rails to keep children from falling through. Make sure existing railings are strong.

—INSTALL lights in all stairways so that the treads are clearly visible. The lights should be controlled from both the top and the bottom of the stairs.

—If the floor level changes abruptly, do something to make the change obvious. You might, for instance, place a piece of furniture in the obvious travel path. Or you might paint a bright stripe on the edge of the step and also on the riser.

—Nail down loose and protruding floor boards. Replace floor boards and stair treads that are weak, splintered, or rotten.

—If floor wax is extremely slippery, strip it off and replace it with nonskid wax.

—REPAVE BROKEN areas and low spots in walks. If brick paving is used in a shady or damp location, top it with concrete (damp bricks are extremely slippery).

—Apply anti-skid backing or tapes to small rugs that slide, or tack the rugs down.

—Repair or replace worn carpets.

—Paint low-hanging pipes and ducts, low doorways, and low ceilings on stairways a bright color. Yellow and black stripes are a traditional caution signal. Use fluorescent paint for extra visibility.

—If room doors open into a hall, rehang them to open into the rooms.

Bulbs give decoration and provide illumination

Outdoor lighting can have the same kind of effect on your outdoor living area that proper illumination can achieve inside, says Joe Cox, extension landscape architect at Michigan State University.

"Outdoor lighting doesn't have to be elaborate or expensive in terms of money or energy," Cox said.

"Sometimes a single bulb in just the right place can transform your grounds by night. When not needed, a single flip of the switch will save electrical energy needed elsewhere."

Lighting can make an area more beautiful as well as more functional, Cox noted. Outdoor lighting can make an area safer and more usable for entertaining and family fun.

"If the aim of lighting your grounds is to discourage prowlers, be sure to place light switches in bedrooms and other convenient places so you can turn them on quickly," the specialist advised. "They won't do you much good when you need them if you have to trot out to the garage to turn them on."

Lighting that's intended to serve a functional purpose can also be decorative. For instance, you can place lights to accent the more interesting spots in your yard or garden, and you can hide the less attractive areas by leaving them dark.

Side or back lighting is generally more dramatic than front lighting, Cox said. "Create patterns with lights, reflections and shadows, and make use of varying brightness to add interest," he explained. "When it's a question of too much light or too little, minimize your lighting. A soft glow is much more pleasing than a bright glare."

In your enthusiasm for outdoor lighting, don't forget to consider the rights of your nearby neighbors. Use shields on lights or place them where they will not bother anyone.

Repair traps cited

Choosing the proper repairman is probably the most important step in solving an appliance repair problem, according to home improvement experts. Here are some guidelines to follow:

—Choose an authorized service representative, not a jack-of-all trades. A qualified, specially trained repairman is an expert on that specific appliance. Consult the use-and-care booklet that comes with the appliance which generally contains a list of authorized service centers or provides a toll-free number to call for information.

—If an appliance breakdown occurs within the warranty period, make sure the repairman does "warranty repairs," since not all do. Make sure you understand the charges before authorizing the repair. Have them itemized and get them in writing. Always get a receipt after a repair is made; keep it to substantiate the service that was performed in case further problems arise. If the cost of the repair includes a guarantee on new parts of workmanship, make sure the receipt so indicates — and specifies for how long.

—With major appliance repairs there usually is a flat rate for the trip (or for the trip and the first half-hour of labor), the experts note. When the repairman determines what the problem is and what parts are needed, he will give a specific estimate. If he must make a second trip to your home because he lacks a part, make sure you are not charged another flat-rate travel fee.

—If you have any questions about the charges, call the service company for clarification. "If you remain unsatisfied, or if the repairs are incomplete, write or call the appliance manufacturer (another reason for using an authorized service company)," an American Home magazine article said.

On the riverfront

Latins to close the festival season

The summer-long series of ethnic festivals on Detroit's riverfront will wind up this weekend, bringing a touch of the "south of the border" cultures to an ordinarily colorless urban setting.

The Latin-American Festival at the Cobo Hall riverfront site will be the final event in Detroit's most successful summer ethnic festival series to date. Almost 4 million people have attended the festivals this year, and festival officials expect the total to go beyond the 4 million mark after this weekend's activities, marking an increase in attendance of more than one-half million over last year.

Detroit's Latin-American community represents 12 nations — Argentina, Brazil, Chile, Colombia, Cuba, The Dominican Republic, El Salvador, Mexico, Nicaragua, Panama, Peru and Puerto Rico. Detroiters with these ethnic backgrounds have combined their creative energy to produce a festival around the theme of unity.

THE OPENING ceremonies at 6 p.m. on Friday will center on Festival Queen Maria Anita Acevedo, 16, of Puerto Rico. A parade in authentic costumes will be presented along with music by the Montes Orchestra of Puerto Rico and the Reyes Combo. Music from all the participating countries will be played for dancing.

The rhythmic beat of maracas and castanets will be heard in the background as native dances from Colombia, Argentina, Puerto Rico, Mexico, Chile, Nicaragua, Cuba and Panama are performed by professional dancers.

Booths selling food will offer Latin-American specialties such as pastelillos (meat turnovers), pasteles (meat pies), mata hambre (beef, lettuce and tomato sandwich), empanadas (meat turnovers), arroz con pollo (rice and chicken), chicheme (beverage made from milk, corn meal, sugar and cinnamon) and piqueo criollo (combination plate).

Festival visitors will also be able to examine and purchase unique imports from the Latin-American countries.

THE HOURS for the festival are 6 to 11 p.m. Friday and noon to 11 p.m. Saturday and Sunday. Admission is free.

The 1974 summer ethnic festival series included weekend activities staged by Detroit's Greek, Irish, Slovak, German, Italian, American, Far Eastern, captive nations, Afro-American, Indian, Ukrainian, Polish, Scandinavian, Armenian, Mexican, Arab and Latin American communities.

Institute to premiere acclaimed BBC film

The widely acclaimed film series "The Ascent of Man," which will premiere on American public television in January, will be shown by Cranbrook Institute of Science at 500 Lone Pine Rd., Bloomfield Hills, beginning in October.

Written and narrated for the British Broadcasting Corporation by the late Dr. Jacob Bronowski, the 13-part series describes the history of mankind through the history of the sciences.

The first hour-long film in the series will be shown in the institute auditorium at 7:30 p.m. Oct. 5, and again at 3:30 p.m. on October 6. "Lower Than the Angels" will explain anatomy and intellect, tracing a multitude of evolutionary changes that give rise to man's special aptitudes among the animals.

New computer techniques will illustrate man's evolution, while X-ray and slow motion photography of an Olympic athlete will show the complex interweaving of mind and body.

According to Dr. Bronowski, who until his death in August was a resident fellow for the Salk Institute for Biological Studies in La Jolla, Calif., the film series looks at man as "a creature of two abilities — the poetic and the scientific."

Dr. Bronowski, who was also a playwright, literary critic and authority on the poetry of William Blake, saw man's poetic and scientific abilities as the joint components of imagination and considered "The Ascent of Man" as a "bi-cultural history."

Other films in the series, which also will be shown at 7:30 p.m. on Saturdays and at 3:30 p.m. on Sundays are: "The Harvest of the Seasons" (agriculture), Oct. 12 and 13; "The Grain in the Stone" (architecture), Oct. 19 and 20; "The Hidden Structure" (chemistry), Oct. 26 and 27; "Music of the Spheres" (mathematics), Nov. 2 and 3; "The Starry Messenger" (astronomy), Nov. 9 and 10; and "The Majestic Clockwork" (physics), Nov. 16 and 17.

Travel group spotlights Belleville

Belleville, with its lakes and trees and nearby Lower Huron Metropark, is highlighted as a top Michigan travel destination in Automobile Club of Michigan's September Motor News magazine.

Auto Club's 1.1 million reader-members find that Belleville is just 23 miles from downtown Detroit via the I-94 Expressway.

"A scenic parkway carries visitors into Lower Huron Metropark, which has several wooded areas, deep ravines and picnic areas bordering the Huron River," Motor News points out.

A SUMMER attraction is the park's L-shaped swimming pool and adjoining food bar, bathhouse and first aid station. There are shuffleboard courts, an 18-hole, par-3 golf course and a tot lot. Naturalists are on duty at the park's nature center in the spring, summer and fall, the article continues.

In the wintertime, moderate slopes accommodate sleds and toboggans and three ponds are ideal for hockey and ice skating.

The September Motor News is devoted exclusively to Southeast Michigan and the wide variety of tourism attractions it offers. This 8-county region of woods and waters — which begins at Monroe and stretches almost to the tip of Michigan's "thumb" — is extolled in more than a dozen articles, columns and editorials.

One article emphasizes that "Southeast Michigan, with 55 per cent of the state's population, has cultural centers, resorts, ski areas, sandy beaches and blue waters. It is a splendid blend of busy urban activity, suburban comforts and rural tranquility."

DOZENS OF interesting museums, hundreds of lakes, some 200 miles of Great Lakes shoreline, fishing, camping, swimming, boating, sight-seeing, plus excellent shopping, sports events, theaters and fine dining contrast with automobile manufacturing and the busiest inland waterway in the world, Motor News points out.

Sid Baker, president of the Southeast Michigan Travel and Tourist Association writes: "Whatever you seek in a vacation trip can be found here. Our lakes, sparkling blue and filled with fighting fish, offer every kind of water sport. Our forests and farmlands provide opportunities to hunt, pick fruit or just relax. Our hills and valleys afford exhilarating skiing and snowmobiling. Our many natural and man-made attractions afford ample chance to enjoy culture, history and fine dining. Outstanding parks, recreation systems and camping areas are easily accessible by excellent, toll-free roads."

A gas-saving Southeast Michigan "Think Tank" tour suggests a 180-mile family-fun color tour through the Irish Hills area, which includes some of the state's most breathtaking scenery, among rolling hills and sparkling lakes. Historic spots intermingled with resorts and interesting things to see and do make this trip "an adventure near home."

The publication's "Conservation Corner" column points out that "Southeast Michigan's eight counties teem with people and its attractions might seem to lean toward more urban offerings. But for those attracted to the outdoors, this area is by no means the desert one might think."

"TAKE FISHING, for example," the column says. "It is hard to beat Lake St. Clair, the smallest of the Great Lakes, 300,000 acres of amazing fish productivity. Some 15 per cent of all the fishing that is done in Michigan is on Lake St. Clair, for some 17 varieties of highly desirable game fish. These include the mighty muskellunge, small and largemouth bass, perch, walleyes, bluegills, white bass, catfish and many more."

Motor News Editor Len Barnes points out that Southeast Michigan boasts the state's greatest concentration of fine restaurants, offering every kind of food plus night clubs and resort complexes. He adds that cultural experiences range from symphony and great art to theater. Barnes says that Southeast Michigan also has Michigan's single greatest tourist attraction, Greenfield Village. The Detroit River is cited for its constant parade of ships from every country and its easy access to a foreign country (Canada). Detroit is also noted as the world's best place to watch autos being assembled.

"If it were possible to design an area as large as Southeast Michigan ideally for tourism, it would be hard to improve on what is already there," Barnes concludes.

The September Motor News is one of six issues being published this year urging Michigan families to "See Michigan First." Other issues have explored Michigan's vacation potential with other editions devoted to attractions in the Upper Peninsula, East Michigan and West Michigan. A future Motor News will be devoted to Detroit.

Practice makes perfect

The Belleville High School's music department conducted a 7-day camp for 98 high school bandmen at Limberlost Camp, LaGrange, Ind., during the month of August. In addition to recreation, the band students were given an opportunity to learn the fundamentals of music and playing. On the right are four students in precision standing. They are (from left) Michelle Good, Lisa McGlashan, Shirley Day and Jeff Bramlett. In the picture above is Nancy Harris prepared to play a tune on her tuba. Dennis Miller, music director, supervised camp activities.

By Red Cross

Phone campaign is begun

Red Cross volunteers in Western Wayne County are now alerting local groups, organizations and individuals by telephone to the need for men and women to join the Red Cross volunteer team. The "Telamarathon," which began Monday, will officially kick-off the Red Cross volunteer recruitment campaign. The goal of the campaign, which will continue until November, is to recruit 800 men and women as volunteers.

Throughout the week, volunteers will be contacting organizations and groups for the purpose of setting up speaking engagements.

"These engagements will be used to present the needs and programs of Red Cross to interested groups, and to publicize the opportunity for community service through Red Cross," said Mrs. Frank Leimbach of Dearborn, chairman of Red Cross volunteers in Western Wayne County.

For example, Red Cross has developed the "team" concept which enables members of clubs and groups to work together on various activities within the Red Cross Blood Program.

Individuals receptive to volunteering will be encouraged to attend an orientation session to be held at the Red Cross Western Regional Office in Dearborn. Individuals or groups who wish to volunteer but have not been contacted are asked to call the western regional office at 274-5450.

School polling is set

A resolution scheduling a special Sept. 30 school election in the Van Buren Public School District formally was approved by the Van Buren Board of Education during a recently held special school board session.

The resolution set forth the legal language of two proposals that will be presented for voter approval in the September balloting.

Voters will be asked to approve a 3-mill tax increase for operating expense and a $4 million bond proposal for the building of two new elementary schools.

Van Buren School Supt. Dale E. Kaulitz said that the requested 3-mill tax levy boost would bring the school district $800,000 in operating funds which are "critically needed." Sites for the proposed construction of the two new elementary schools have not as yet been determined by the Van Buren Board of Education.

Social security plans hot line

You are just a phone call away from social security.

Calling the phone number of the Detroit Area Metropolitan Answering Service means saving time, money and gasoline.

Dialing 493-1111 can take care of social security, Medicare and supplement security income problems, officials of the area office of Social Security Administration reported.

And donuts, too

Now is prime time for cider

Michigan's fall tourism season is here and with it comes the taste-tempting treat of cider and doughnuts—a delicacy enjoyed each autumn by thousands of Michiganders.

"While the sweet cider is available year-around in most areas, it's in the fall, when freshly picked apples are turned into pure juice, that this delicious drink is most popular," states Joseph Ratke, Automobile Club of Michigan touring manager. To help motorists discover the whereabouts of area cider mills, AAA has come up with the locations of several operations where pressing may be observed.

"HALF THE FUN of visiting a cider mill comes from watching the unfermented apple juice being extracted by means of a press," explains Ratke. "The other half comes from sampling the finished product." After the apples are pressed, preservatives are then added and the cider is pasteurized before sale.

"Cider mills vary in character from the most modern endeavor complete with hydraulic presses to the small family operation that uses gear-driven machinery," he adds. "Either method produces a juice that is pure and sweet to taste."

SOME OF THE MILLS have their own orchards where apples may be picked. Others feature horse-drawn wagon rides, flea markets, gift shops and restaurants. One East Michigan operation even offers all the pumpkins you can carry for $1.92.

Cider mill trips are most popular on weekends, when long lines of cars often develop outside. Travelers may avoid these lines by visiting mills on weekdays.

Since many mills operate irregular hours persons wishing to see pressing operations should call ahead before leaving home.

Due to increasing costs, many mills are not establishing advance prices for cider and doughnuts. The average price for a gallon of cider should be about $1.50 to $1.70 with doughnuts between 90 cents and $1.40 a dozen.

Here is a listing of cider mills in the Western Wayne County area:

—Franklin Cider Mill, 7450 Franklin Rd., Franklin. Phone 626-2968. Open now through Dec. 8 from 9 a.m. to 6 p.m. daily. Cider, doughnuts.

—South Huron Orchard, 38035 S. Huron Rd., New Boston. Phone 753-9380. Open now through April from 9 a.m. to 8 p.m. Cider, doughnuts.

—Foreman Orchards (The Cider Barrel), 50060 W. 7 Mile Rd., Northville. Phone 349-1256. Open now through April 1 from 9 a.m. to 6 p.m. Cider, doughnuts, wagon rides, orchard for apple picking. —Parmenter's Northville Cider Mill, 714 Baseline Rd., Northville. Phone 349-3181. Open now through late November from 10 a.m. to 8 p.m. daily. Cider, doughnuts. —Wiard's, 5565 Merrih Rd., Ypsilanti. Phone 482-7744. Open now through Dec. 31 from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. daily. Cider, doughnuts.

Boater's Eden to open

Boating enthusiasts in Western Wayne County will be treated to shows featuring both power and sail crafts at the fourth annual Great Lakes Sailboat Show on Oct. 3-6, and the third annual Midwest Powerboat Show on Oct. 10-13 in the south marina at Metropolitan Beach in Detroit.

According to Jack Leverenz, producer of both shows, the large marina will allow all of the boats and equipment to be displayed in a huge semi-circle with an outer circumference of about one-half mile.

"Parking will be immediately adjacent to the show area," Leverenz said.

"Patrons will enter the show on a wide sidewalk which will carry them past the equipment tent and along the water's edge with the large boats displayed in the water on one side and the smaller boats displayed on shore on the other side.

"Because each boat backs up to the main walk, it will no longer be necessary for patrons to walk out toward a dead end on floating docks.

The new location is much better suited to handle people and we're sure boaters will find it easier to view all of the boats, and to move from one area to another without fighting a crowded dockful of people."

Each show will feature more boats than ever before, many of which will be introductory models, boats so new they have never been seen by the public.

The friendly, regatta-like atmosphere that prevails at these outdoor, in-the-water shows causes many boaters to stay at the showers for many hours.

Picnic tables scattered about the area encourage picnic lunches and just plain dawdling about, looking at and talking about boats.

Metropolitan Beach is at the foot of the Metropolitan Parkway in Mt. Clemens.

Police arrest theft suspects

The Van Buren Township police and Wayne County Sheriff's Road Patrol detectives have under arrest five male suspects believed to be involved in the theft of copper tubing from a Van Buren Township Apartment complex development and the firing of a shot gun toward a township police sergeant.

The five suspects were arrested in the immediate vicinity of the Parkwood Apartment Complex under construction on Tyler Road west of Haggerty Road and are under intensive investigation at the road patrol offices.

—Dennis Rautio of the sheriff's detective bureau said the suspects are being held for an investigation of theft and felonious assault with a shot gun.

VAN BUREN Township Police Sgt. Gary Holloway and his partner Patrol Paul Cartwright were called to the apartment complex at approximately 10:30 p.m. Sunday by a security guard who reported that two vehicles including a pickup truck had entered the rear section of the apartment complex.

The township police car drove to the rear of the apartment complex and spotted both vehicles.

Sgt. Holloway said that when he and his partner got out of their scout car they were fired upon by a man standing about 150 yards away.

The men fled after discharging a shot gun shell at the officers. The gun later was found on Haggerty Road by sheriff's deputies.

GOLLOWAY was hit in the neck by a shotgun pellet, which caused minor injury.

In response to a call for assistance, scout cars from Belleville, Sumpter Township and the sheriff's road patrol arrived on the scene. More than a dozen police cars were involved in the round up of the suspects, police said.

Township police officers and detectives found about 250 pounds of copper, which had been stripped from some of the unfinished apartment units, loaded in a box on the pickup.

Making it from scratch

Vegetarian has substitutes for 'unhealthy food'

By MAUREEN RADEMACHER
Of The Enterprise-Roman Staff

Long before natural foods became fashionable and relevant to young people trying to get back to the good old days, Hedi Fuchs of Sumpter Township and her family were eating the natural way. For 12 years the family has been vegetarian, basing their food selections on nutrition and balance. The diet excludes foods that Mrs. Fuchs calls "health hazards," such as meat, refined sugar and anything made with it, alcohol, coffee and chocolate. These foods make up the main menu for many in affluent America, but today the interest in vegetarianism is growing. With high meat prices and increased interest in better health, a trend toward natural eating is saturating the food industry.

JUST BECAUSE a person gives up the American staples of meat and sugar, doesn't mean he must give up good food, according to Mrs. Fuchs. During her years as a vegetarian, she has developed or found out a vast repertoire of tasty and attractive dishes that would appeal to any palate. Entertaining non-vegetarians at home has brought good reactions.

"Not long ago we had a friend over for dinner and she was delighted," Mrs. Fuchs recalled. "She never had had vegetarian food before."

Want to try a few vegetarian recipes? The best place to start is breakfast, a very important meal, according to Mrs. Fuchs.

"It's very unhealthy to skip breakfast," she emphasized. "How can you expect to go all day without the necessary fuel?"

"IT'S WRONG TO eat a big meal in the evening and then go to bed," she added. "You shouldn't go to bed with your stomach still working."

To start the day off right, Mrs. Fuchs makes a special homemade granola, rather than buy the new natural cereals in the grocery store that are full of sugar, a substance she calls "empty calories."

HOMEMADE GRANOLA

10 cups quick rolled oats
1 cup raw wheat germ
1 cup flaked coconut
1 cup honey or 1 1/4 cup brown sugar
1 cup water
2 1/2 teaspoons salt
2 to 4 teaspoons vanilla
1 cup (or less) corn oil
1/2 cup pecans
1 to 1 1/2 cup raw cashews
1/2 cup almonds, cut
one third cup sesame seeds or meal
1/4 cup flax seed or meal
2 cups sunflower seeds
one third cup pumpkin seeds
1/2 cup soy grits

Place 1 cup of oil in pan and warm. Add oatmeal. Stir till golden, 3 to 4 minutes. Add wheat germ, stir 3 to 4 minutes until heated through.

Spray a large casserole dish with cooking spray. Pour in oatmeal mixture and add the rest of the dry ingredients. Sprinkle with the water. Mix with hands. Bake at 275 degrees for 10 to 15 minutes.

Stir two times. Bake at 250 degrees for one hour, stirring every 10 minutes.

THE GRANOLA is done when it feels dry to the touch. At this point you may add one cup of raisins then mix well. Let stand until cool. Store in airtight canister.

A vegetarian diet doesn't mean you have to give up cake completely. It simply means that a special recipe will have to be used to turn out a healthy and delicious dessert. While white sugar is avoided whenever, brown sugar, which is unrefined, is used as sweetener.

Here's Mrs. Fuchs' recipe for cake and frosting made the nutritious way.

Gradually add 1 and one-third cup brown sugar to four well beaten eggs. Sift together 2 cups unbleached flour, 1/4 teaspoon salt and 2 teaspoons low sodium baking powder.

ADD FLOUR MIXTURE to eggs and sugar, then add one cup scalding hot milk, 2 teaspoons vanilla. Bake immediately at 350 degrees.

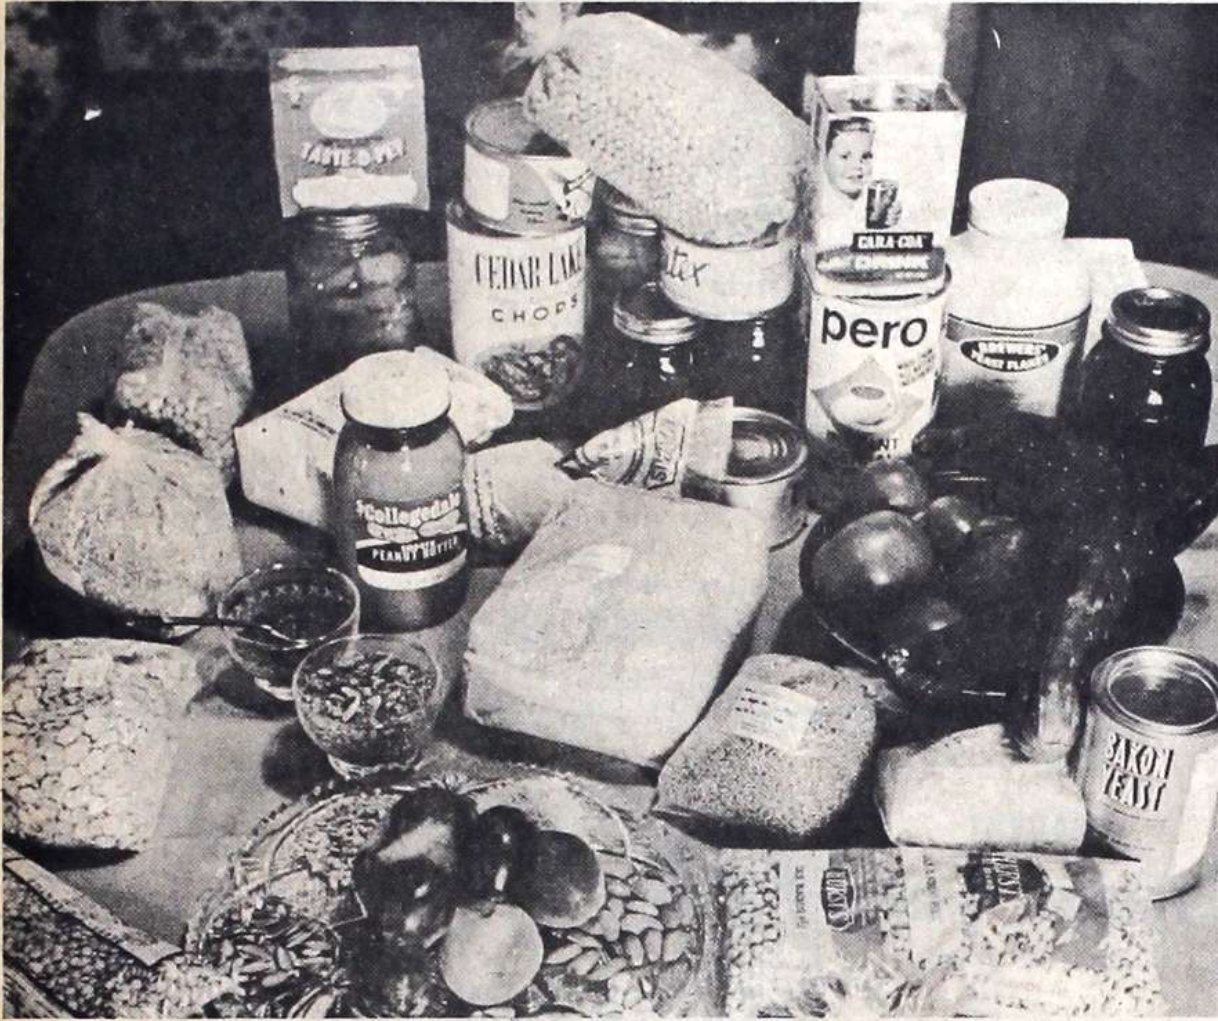

This is for three basic layers. Frosting for the cake will fill the three layers and top.

To prepare frosting, first cook 2 cups prunes in 1 1/2 cup water until plump. Cool. Mix one pound dry cottage cheese or Ricotta cheese, one tart medium apple, cut up, 2 teaspoons carob powder, 1/4 teaspoon salt and the pitted prunes in a mixer with a few drops of lemon oil or 1 1/2 teaspoon lemon rind, and one-third cup sugar. This will make a creamy frosting. Once the cake is frosted, decorate it with 10 or 12 pecan halves on the top.

Another example of Mrs. Fuchs' inventiveness in the kitchen comes when she substitutes or adds ingredients to a recipe to round out its nutritional value or eliminate the unhealthy things that the recipe calls for.

It's just
her tasks

For Hedi Fuchs of Sumpter Township, baking bread each week is just one of her chores. Using her own recipe for European peasant rye bread, she has found that home prepared foods are cheaper and as good as purchased health foods. A vegetarian for 12 years, Mrs. Fuchs shows off (above) some of the homemade and boughten foods that provide protein, minerals, and vitamins. — The Enterprise-Roman photos.

Planners OK rezoning for new medical clinic

A requested rezoning of a 10-acre land parcel in Sumpter Township to permit the construction of a permanent family medical center has received the approval of the Sumpter Township Planning Commission.

The commission's approval, which followed the holding of a public hearing on the proposed rezoning, now will be considered by the township board of trustees.

The land parcel, currently zoned for single-family and rural community homes, is located on Sumpter Road between Willis and Harris roads.

The township's request dealt with a zoning change to general business classification.

The construction of the permanent family medical center is to be financed by a Kresge Foundation grant of $225,000 received by Oakwood General Hospital of Dearborn, operators of the present Sumpter Family Practice Center housed in two connecting mobile homes at 24560 Sumpter Rd.

The Kresge grant will enable the hospital to house the mobile home facilities in new and larger quarters.

The proposed new center will be 1-story structure, providing 5,600 square feet of space for examinations and treatment of ambulatory patients.

The new facility also will have 21 examination and consultation rooms and will provide no patient beds.

The construction of the center will be completed by early 1975.

Program aims at school spirit

A new student program designed to create more school spirit has been initiated by the student and faculty at South Junior High School in the Van Buren School District.

The program was devised by a committee composed of student council officers and faculty members Gwen Buege, Royce Disbrow, Wendy Squelch and Diana Stadtmiller, under the direction of assistant principal John R. Forsyth.

Basically the program provides that any student may receive points in numerous ways which are totaled in his homeroom section each marking period. A student may receive points for academic performance, athletic participation and by participating in school or student council inspired activities.

Points earned in one working period may not be used again in another 6-week period. Homeroom teachers will tally the points for their section and a running score for the year will be kept by faculty member Bill Loyd.

Though school pride and spirit are the ultimate goals of the program and all students at South Junior High School, recognition of winning homeroom sections for each grade will be given at the end of each marking period.

The over-all winning homeroom sections will receive a grand prize at the end of the school year which will be determined and funded by the South Junior High School Student Council.

Schools to hold annual open house

The annual open house programs at three Van Buren Public School District schools will be held this month, prior to the special school election scheduled for Sept. 30.

Belleville High School, located at 501 W. Columbia Ave., will hold its open house from 7:30 to 9 p.m. Sept. 24.

North Junior High School, located at 47097 McBride Ave., will conduct its open house from 7:30 to 9 p.m. on Sept. 26, and the open house at South Junior High School, located at 45201 Owen St., will be held from 7:30 to 9 p.m. on Sept. 25.

According to school officials, the annual open house affairs were moved up to permit parents and residents of the school district to view school facilities and get informed on school operations.

The Van Buren Board of Education is seeking voter approval of a 3-mill property tax hike for operating expense and approval of a $4 million bond issue for school building programs.

Belleville opens league at Allen Park

Tiger defense stops Wayne, 20-19, in debut

By TOM MOORADIAN
Sports Editor

Belleville's come-from-behind 20-19 victory over Wayne Memorial Friday night convinced Belleville Coach Keith Emerson "that, though it's nice to win, it's equally nice to find out that we're not a bunch of quitters."

Trailing 13-0 at the half, Belleville came back and scored three times - twice thanks to the defense - in the last quarter to pull out the nonleague thriller.

"The most impressive thing about this game," said Emerson, "is that our kids didn't quit. They came back. And that's a mark of a good team."

BELLEVILLE will have to show much more Friday night. The Tigers take on Allen Park, the pre-season Suburban 8 Conference title favorite. The Jaguars turned back Melvindale 19-6 in their 1974 debut.

"Some say that this Allen

Park team is even better than the one which won 22 straight a few years ago," said

Emerson. "This could be true, however, we have always given Allen Park a run for their money.

"In fact that team that won it a couple of years ago only beat us 7-6. That's how our boys are always up for them and I feel if we can play mistake free football, we have a good chance to win," said Emerson.

Despite Belleville quarterback Mark Verrot's heroics, it was the defense that saved the day for the Tigers. Trailing 13-0 going into the final quarter, Verrot broke the ice when he took the Tigers from the Wayne 35-yard line in three plays into the Zebra endzone via a 14-yard pass to Dennis Easley.

Dan Theodore's first of three successful point after kicks put Belleville back in the game 13-7. It took the Tigers only 30 seconds to get on the scoreboard and five minutes later they had the lead.

WAYNE BROUGHT the kickoff out to the 24, but a clipping penalty against the Zebras moved them back to their 15. Two pass completions gave the hosts a first down at their own 34, then Perry Dingman picked off one of Pat Bledsoe's aeriels and carried it back to the Wayne one.

Three plays later Dingman crashed over into the endzone to tie the score and Theodore's point after gave Belleville the lead, 14-13.

It wasn't over yet.

With seven minutes left to the final whistle, Belleville defensive halfback Sam Robinson came up with the team's second interception and ran it back 25-yards for a touchdown. That gave the Tigers a 20-13 edge.

Two penalties forced Theodore to kick the extra point from the 20-yard line, and he successfully found the mark.

Wayne countered with a touchdown in the final two seconds of the game to come within a point of pulling it out. A Tim McCormick to Pat Sheridan pass which covered 34-yards set up Bill Browaski's third touchdown of the game.

Browaski, who had tallied earlier from the two and one yard lines in the second quarter, went up the middle from the one-foot line to make it a 20-19 ball game with 1:14 remaining.

WAYNE chose to gamble and went for the two point conversion and failed.

Belleville took over on its own 35-yard line after an excellent kickoff return by Easley, then chewed up the final seconds.

Easley had a superb opening game, snaring three Verrot passes for 54 yards and rushing for 23 additional yards.

Three newcomers to Michigan State's 1974 football team hail from the Norfolk, Va. area. They are frosh defensive back Tom Graves and soph halfback Leon Williams of Norfolk Lake Taylor High and tight end Larry Bethea of Newport News Ferguson High.

in five carries from the wingback.

"I felt that Verrot did a fine job of quarterbacking under pressure," said Emerson, "but, I don't think we can say we won this game offensively. It was the defense that won it."

"And I think we've convinced the kids that you can score on defense as well as offense."

EASY DOES IT — Outmaneuvering Wayne Memorial's Pat Sheridan (81) on this play, Belleville's Dennis Easley (30) snags this 8 Conference title favorite, Allen Park, at pass for a neat hunk of Zebra territory. Shrine spoils Romulus rookie coach's debut

Royal Oak Shrine, a respected member of the Catholic League First Division "AA" Conference, spoiled Romulus High's Tom Baldwin's debut as head coach Saturday night, thrashing the Eagles 35-0 in the season opener.

Shrine leaped to a 14-0 first quarter lead, then scored a touchdown in the second and third stanzas to take a comfortable 28-0 cushion into the final frame.

Romulus' offense never really got off the ground as the Eagles failed to penetrate within the Shrine 20-yard line all night. The farthest the Eagles got was to the winner's 30 midway in the second quarter.

"SHRINE is definitely the best football team we will see this year," said Baldwin. "They showed us a lot."

Baldwin, who took over from Jim Stallings this year as head coach, "pointed out that his team's offense completely broke down."

"We didn't move the ball well until the second half, then it was too late," he said.

Romulus also lost its starting senior quarterback, Michael Morrison, for several weeks. Morrison was injured in the third quarter and it is believed he sustained cracked ribs which would sideline him for at least until mid-season, according to the Eagle mentor.

BACKUP quarterback, John Myers, finished up the game. He'll get the nod to start in Saturday's game against Pontiac Catholic Central. Kickoff is at 1:30 p.m.

Pontiac Catholic Central won its season opener 21-16 at the expense of Orinville Brandon.

Baldwin had this to say about his next opponent:

"They're big, but don't have the over-all speed that Shrine does. They also run a wishbone offense that we must contain."

Though the over-all picture against Shrine was a bleak one, there were some bright spots for the Eagles. The defensive play of ends George Butler and Phil Whitescarver was notable as well as the running of John Braithwaite and tailback Jeff Landers.

Braithwaite picked up a total of 60 yards rushing while Landers, given two chances with the ball, rushed for 35.

However, Romulus' linebackers are due for some over-time work, you can bet on that. Shrine came right at the Eagles and the second line of defense couldn't do anything about it.

Gridders told to drink water

ANN ARBOR — Football coaches and trainers should allow their players all the ice water they want during practice and play, especially in humid weather, according to a physician for the Ohio State University football team.

Dr. Robert J. Murphy told a group of orthopaedic surgeons and team physicians here recently that heat stroke and possible death can result if coaches follow the traditional practice of withholding fluids on the field.

"Heat death is unnecessary and preventable," Dr. Murphy told those attending a course on "Early Care of the Injured Athlete" sponsored by the American Academy of Orthopaedic Surgeons. He said coaches should learn the dangers of heat stroke and take measures to prevent it.

"Exercise generates heat which can only be dissipated by fluid evaporation on the body's surfaces — sweating," Dr. Murphy said. He explained that because sweat is largely water, such continued fluid loss increases the concentration of chemical salts in the body.

Prep athletes also need some safeguards

By TOM MOORADIAN

What can be done to protect the high school athlete and coach from having their season wiped out because of a teachers' strike?

Lloyd Carr, Westland John Glenn's head football coach whose Rockets will miss their scheduled game today with Dearborn Fordson because of a teachers' strike in the Wayne-Westland Community School District, had this to say:

didn't ask or did we want to be in this situation. We have acted in the manner that we feel best.

"But, if there is a state law which protects each child from losing his or her education - (the law provides that there be 180 school days in a year) then, I feel something must be done to assure the athlete and coach who work all summer, then when the time comes, finds that the schools may not be in session for the season because of strikes," Carr said.

CARR POINTED out that football isn't the only sport that is hurt by the strikes. All sports, all extra-curricular activities go down the drain, and something must be done to protect these students who are involved in such activities. I feel it's up to the MHSAA or the Michigan Education Association to act now," Carr added.

Most school districts and MEA bargaining units have allowed the coaches to make their own decisions "if they want to withhold their services."

That has caused a lot of bitterness and controversy. It places the burden on the coach who, in such a situation, "is damned if he coaches and damned if he doesn't."

No one apparently is looking ahead, either. The school boards and unions have shut their eyes for tomorrow's openers but what happens if the strikes in the Wayne-Westland, Garden City, Plymouth, Westwood school districts continue into next week, or the week after?

And there is a good possibility that the strikes will not end soon.

Didn't the one in Detroit last six weeks last year?

MANY SCHOOL BOARDS have tossed the controversy into the laps of the courts in hopes of forcing the teachers back into the classrooms via court injunctions.

But, injunctions sometimes, as in the case of Detroit last year and East Detroit this year, may not get the teachers back.

It isn't only the present strikes that worry us - but, the fact is that there is no solution in sight to handling teachers' walkouts today, tomorrow or in the near future.

Carr's recommendation that the legislators act is a good one.

But, legislators have been in the same situation in the past, and still haven't found a solution.

That leaves all concerned in a state of limbo.

Huron gets good tuneup for MCC

All's not lost, even in defeat - that's about how New Boston Huron head football coach Jim Rossow summed up his feelings about the Chiefs' 15-0 shutout in Friday's season opener against Milan.

Milan cashed in on a couple of Huron defensive lapses to score twice in the first half, then held on to win the nonleague.

"There were some very promising things that went on," said Rossow, "and in that category must go the way our secondary performed."

"Milan wasn't able to complete one pass against us," Rossow added.

DALE LOVE'S 75-yard touchdown run in the first quarter gave Milan the lead, and Tom Peterson picked up a seven-yarder in the second stanza, providing the visitors with a 13-0 halftime advantage.

Huron threatened throughout the entire game but couldn't find the right combination to go into the endzone.

Late in the half the Chiefs handed the ball over to the visitors on the Milan 15-yard line.

After Milan failed to move out of danger, it found itself in deeper trouble when a bad kick gave the ball back to the Chiefs' on the five.

That five yards however proved impregnable as the Chiefs failed in two passing attempts to score. Time ran out on them in the first half.

In the second half Huron drove within the Milan 15 four times but couldn't pick up their season's first TD.

Most of the assault was generated by Huron's sophomore quarterback Craig Beattie who went to the air 23 times and found his target 14 of those times for a total of 198 yards.

"Craig showed poise and confidence in what he was doing," said Russow.

HURON'S defense got a boost from Rick Elkins and Ted Pappas. The two linebackers accounted for 24 tackles between them, while the secondary made up of Russ Ikerd, Beattie, Ken Smith and rovers Frank Martin and Jeff Stoker came out of their first test with exceptional good grades.

The Chiefs will launch their conference season Friday night, clashing with pre-season, title favorite, Monroe Catholic Central.

MCC lost its nonleague opener Friday night to Perrysburg, Ohio, 12-7.

"Monroe had some real fine backs," said Russow, "and they're a solid defensive unit, so we're going to have our hands full again this week."

Romulus softballers finish 3rd

Fourteen members of the Romulus Ladies' Softball League sponsored by the Solventol Chemicals made a fine representation by finishing third in a field of eight teams in the inaugural Waltz Softball Tournament.

After dropping their opening game, 15-6, to Ziebart of Monroe, Solventol came back Saturday with a thrilling 7-6 win over Floral City also of Monroe.

Romulus concluded the tournament with an impressive 14-8 over Blaharski's Pizzeria of Carleton. The two victories enabled Solventol to return Sunday to provide the fans with the most exciting game of the tournament with an 11th inning 8-7 victory with a rematch of Ziebart's.

Solventol was finally eliminated by Monroe Top Choice, 10-3, the runnerup of the tournament.

Members of the team are: Margaret Ayers, Sharon Howie, Diane Williams, Aggie Hicks, Cheryl Wedyke, Nancy Verdusco, Raye Lombardi, Lee Anne Silvey, Ann Szyniar, Marlene Fargo, Bertha Sterling, Debbie Wilcox, Janeal Eberline, and Vicki Szyniar.

Brown broke through the Zebra line of defenses to haul down the ballcarrier in Friday's nonleague opener for both teams. Belleville staged a dramatic come-from-behind 20-19 victory to remain a thorn in Wayne's sides. Wayne blew a 13-0 lead.

Meteors, Flyers clash

The Westland Meteors will provide the competition for the Romulus Flyers' homecoming Sunday when the two little league football teams tangle in the Western Suburban League.

The Flyers dropped two of their three games to the Westland Comets on Sunday, losing the freshmen game 6-0 and the junior varsity 12-0, but the varsity remained undefeated thanks to a 27-12 victory.

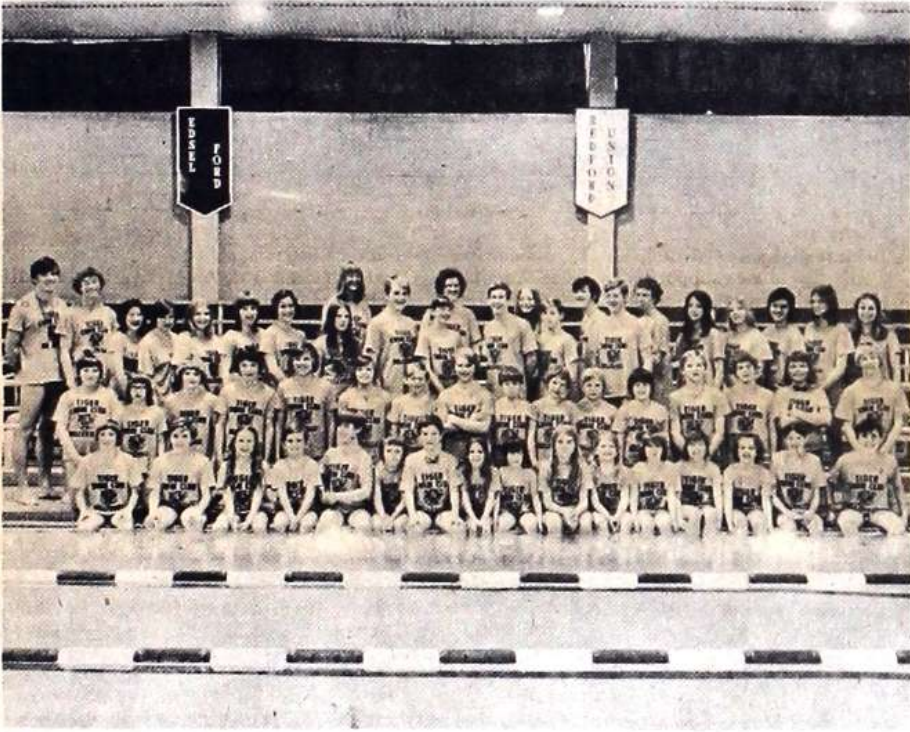

In that varsity game the Flyers quarterback scampered for two touchdowns on 80-yard runs.

BACK TO LIVE ACTION — The Tiger Swim Club will resume regular practice sessions on Friday in the Belleville High School swim pool. Practice will be scheduled daily from 5:30 p.m. until 7:30 p.m. New participants are invited to meet the team, coach and register.

Belleville harriers take second straight contest

What a difference a year makes. Last year Belleville's cross country team struggled through the season and the Suburban 8 Conference and this year Coach Bruce Roman's Tigers have already chalked up two victories.

Belleville's latest triumph, a 26-31 decision over Allen Park, made Roman's coaching debut in the league a winning one. The Tigers are yet to lose under their first year coach. "I'm quite satisfied with the way our boys ran," said Roman who took over from Bob Boudreau this year. "The boys are doing a very fine job, and a lot of the kids are improving and I guess that's what I'm after right now."

ALLEN PARK runner Pete O'Neil led the pack as he churned a 16:16 in winning the three-mile run staged in 80 plus degree temperatures. Belleville came up with the second and third best times with Randy Block (16:20) and Mike Yonge (16:34), then went fifth with Ed Conrad (16:49), seventh with Tom Kos (17:05) and ninth and tenth with John Szlinis (17:32) and Dave Palnau (17:34).

A pair of sophomores also proved they will be heard from this season. Keith Williams was clocked in the 11th best time (17:35) while Don Buhro covered the Metro Park course in 12th, crossing the finish line in 17:47. I believe that the humidity and heat did affect the runners' performances because it was very tiring to run under those circumstances, however, I am satisfied with the way these kids are sticking to the job," said Roman.

Bishop Gallagher wins Huron CC invitational

Playing the "near perfect host," Huron harriers finished 15th out of a field of 19 at their sixth annual cross country invitational held over the weekend at Willow Park. "We had some of the best teams in the state at this one," remarked Mike Mathews, Huron High coach, "and we didn't do so well as evidenced by our finish."

Bishop Gallagher, which placed six of its runners in the top 20 places, garnered 59 points to win the championship. The individual title went to Jack Sinclair of Grosse Ile. He covered the three mile course in a fast 14:51 time.

HURON is 1-0 in dual meet competition, entering the week of action. The Chiefs outran nonleague rival Dundee last week 25-33 with New Boston runner, Bob Tillston, finishing second to Dundee's Mike McCollough.

McCollough's winning time was 17:10. Tillston was clocked in 17:19. He led teammate Keith Frazier across the finish line. Frazier had an 18:18 effort.

Automotive roundup

Officials note change in auto sales trend

By JIM CARRAVALLAH
The Enterprise-Roman
Automotive Writer

Ford Motor Co. may have come out of the automotive manufacturing slump.

The company built more new vehicles at its North American assembly plants last month than in any previous August in its history. Donald Bastian, vice-president — Manufacturing Group, said the plants assembled 327,636 cars last month, surpassing the August 1972 record of 300,512 units by nine per cent.

GENERAL MOTORS Corp. Chairman of the Board

Richard C. Gerstenberg said he is encouraged "the way business is coming back" from the early 1974 doldrums and said: "I definitely do not see a depression."

Speaking at the GM proving grounds in Milford, Gerstenberg added: "I see the auto business coming back and with business in general spending as much as it is, this attests to the confidence in the economy."

While the automobile business may be coming back, it's coming back with higher prices. Chrysler Corp. said it would have little choice but to raise prices several times during the 1975 model year on top of an expected $400 to $500 introductory price boost this fall.

COMPANY CHAIRMAN Lynn Townsend said there would be "repricing, probably several times, during the model year" as long as costs continue to rise.

If the cars cost more, they will travel farther, though.

Chrysler Corp. announced Friday its 1975 model cars will attain fuel economy gains averaging five per cent over 1974 models.

Actual gains will range from three to 17 per cent, depending on the models.

AMERICAN MOTORS Corp. (AMC) will be offering its customers plenty to listen to while they travel. The automaker will include a 23-channel citizen's band 2-way radio as a dealer-installed accessory in AMC passenger cars and Jeep 4-wheel drive vehicles.

Radios will be installed under the instrument panel where appropriate, or on the transmission hump by means of a specially-designed bracket.

Toyota Motors, the Japanese automobile manufacturer, anticipates better times this fall in automotive sales.

The company will import 111,200 vehicles during the June-September period in anticipation of substantially increased sales for the fall months.

assist me in the campaign. After a lot of soul searching and encouragement by others, I have decided to run as a write-in candidate."

his candidacy, Hedman said he had instituted some of the proposals that he mentioned when campaigning for the treasurer's post in the 1972 election, such as streamlining treasury office procedures and improving tax billing and collections.

Consultant pleads guilty to fraud

A self-employed Romulus tax preparer faces a maximum three years imprisonment and a $5,000 fine after pleading guilty to charges that he willfully aided and assisted in the preparation of false and fraudulent individual returns for others for the years 1970, 1971 and 1972.

James McCain, 40, of 6094 Second, will be sentenced in eight weeks by U.S. District Court Judge Charles W. Joiner, before whom McCain pleaded guilty in recent proceedings.

According to the prosecutor, Assistant U.S. Attorney Loren Keenan, McCain was charged with listing phony deductions for nine different persons in the 3-year span, amounting to approximately $3,500 in illegal deductions or $300 to $400 per person.

"HE WAS ARRANGING false deductions for people, promising them very low taxes or a fat refund," Keenan said. "And sooner or later he knew the word would get around to other people that here's a guy who can get you more deductions, thus building up his business. As far as we know, none of the persons asked him to give them illegal deductions. The people flatly have denied telling McCain to do it." Keenan added that McCain apparently doled out the phony deductions as a method of luring new customers seeking to lessen their taxes. He said McCain did not belong to a tax firm, but was self-employed working out of his home in Romulus.

MCCAIN'S ILLEGAL practices were discovered during a routine Internal Revenue Service audit of a series of returns, Keenan said. Willfully aiding and assisting in the preparations of false and fraudulent individual returns for others is a felony, punishable by a maximum penalty of three years imprisonment and a fine of $5,000, plus costs of prosecution, Keenan said. He added that McCain was freed on personal bond after pleading guilty.

Controlled storm

Controlled ice storms some day may save fruit trees from frost damage. Experiments have shown that spraying hot water on an orchard in cold weather creates a "warm ice" that keeps buds insulated at about 30 degrees even when temperatures drop

Punt, Pass and Kick is open for entrants

Registrations for the 1974 Punt, Pass and Kick Program, co-sponsored locally by the Belleville Kiwanis and Atchinson Ford, are still being accepted, with sponsors aiming for a national goal of 1.2 million registrants.

For the past 13 years, more than 10 million youngsters have registered in the competition making it the largest youth activity of its kind in America.

Any youngster from age eight through 13, accompanied by a parent or guardian, may register at any participating Ford dealer. There is no registration fee.

Each registrant will receive a free Punt, Pass and Kick tips book which includes a set of rules, helpful conditioning exercises and important tips by leading National Football League specialists.

The program involves no body contact, no special equipment and youngsters compete only against others in their own age group. Participation does not impair a youngster's amateur standing. First, second and third place winners in local competition will receive one of 18 local trophies.

Citizens lose millions in unknown tax credit

A state official has warned low income homeowners and renters that they may be missing out on millions of dollars in property tax credits. "New provisions in the state law provide tax credit refunds for many low income families," said State Senator William Faust (D-Westland). "Unfortunately, not very many people have been made aware of this fact." State tax officials reported that relatively few people have been taking advantage of this tax relief.

Romulus manufacturer holds family fun day

Families and friends of the over 400 employees of Kerr Manufacturing Company of Romulus will attend a special Family Day Open House at the firm's headquarters office and plant, 28200 Wick Rd., on Sept. 22. The unique open house at the dental supply firm, a division of Sybron Corp. will allow employees to take their families directly to their respective work stations and then tour the mechanical products, chemical products and refractories manufacturing areas of the plant. They also will get to meet company officials personally. Throughout the afternoon, Noble Wilson and his Caribbean Calypso will serenade the guests on the grounds and in a special catering tent being set up on the huge back lawn. Karlin the Clown will be on hand to delight the kiddies with balloon sculptures and sleight-of-hand. There will be a buffet lunch and souvenirs for all. A major supplier to the dental profession worldwide, Kerr has manufacturing and sales facilities through the United States and abroad. The Romulus plant draws employees from throughout southeastern Michigan.

Hospital gets new head

Wayne County General Hospital has a new executive director. He is Symuel H. Smith, 52, the former director of Morrisania City Hospital in New York, N.Y. Smith, one of 38 candidates who applied to fill the vacancy created at the Wayne County General Hospital by the resignation of the institution's former director last year, brings with him 22 years of experience in hospital administration, including the past 6½ years as executive director of the New York medical facility. "I look forward to my duties as executive director of the hospital with great optimism," Smith said. "The Wayne County Board of Commissioners and the Wayne County Board of Institutions clearly intend to maintain this hospital as one of the finest health care facilities in the United States. "I am excited by this goal, set forth in the hospital task force study, to develop Wayne County General into a unique health resource — a facility providing comprehensive outpatient care and specialized services not available to the general public elsewhere." At a formal press conference to announce his appointment to the hospital's top administrative post, Smith said one of his first tasks will be to establish health care clinics throughout Wayne County. Among the first suggestions he has made is the development of an outpatient clinic, possibly in River Rouge. During his time in New York, Smith established a successful outpatient care facility at Morrisania City Hospital.
